NOTICE.

License to extract and purchase timber from the North and Middle Andaman Islands.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Government of India are prepared to consider tenders for a license to extract and purchase padauk and other timbers from—

(i) The North Andaman with Interview, Bennett, and all other Islands north of Austin Strait.

(ii) The Middle Andaman excepting that portion to the west of Yolpig and south of the main line cleared from the junction of the Chara-lung-ta and Bom-lung-ta streams westwards to Mount Oldham and on to the sea.

2. Sites for depôts, sawmills, residences, and other purposes essential to the carrying out of the terms of the license will be made available at Port Cornwallis, Stewart Sound, and Long Island at the discretion of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

3. Tenders may be submitted for either or both of the above areas. The license will be for 20 years from the 1st January 1916, or such later date within six months of the acceptance of the tender as may be agreed upon, with the option of renewal for another 20 years on terms to be notified by the Government of India hereafter; but those persons whose tenders have been accepted will be permitted to clear land for buildings, and other purposes connected with the license, and to start the erection of such buildings, as from the date on which the agreement is signed and the security money deposited.

4. The fellings will be regulated by the working plans sanctioned or to be sanctioned, by the Government of India. The two areas, mentioned in paragraph 1 above will each be divided into three sub periodic blocks. Felling and extraction of timber and the payment of royalty thereon must be completed in sub-periodic block I by the end of the first seven years of the license, work being similarly completed in sub-periodic blocks II and III by the end of the 11th and 15th years, respectively. Throughout the period of the agreement the Secretary of State for India in Council will retain the right to extract from the licensed areas timber required for local (other than trade purposes) and for local public works, and in any sub-periodic block on the expiry of the period allotted for the working thereof to issue licenses or otherwise provide for the felling, extraction, and disposal of timber which the licensees have omitted or are not bound to extract.

5. The padauk trees to be felled will be marked previously by the Forest Department, and none but marked trees shall be felled. The first sub-periodic block in each area will be located in the neighbourhood of Stewart Sound.

6. The minimum annual outturn of padauk timber for the first fourteen years after which the present working plan will be revised, is estimated as follows, but the accuracy of the estimate is not guaranteed :—

(i) From the North Andaman including Interview and Bennett Islands—

1,200 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
1,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

2,100 tons of first-class logs,
1,400 tons of second-class logs,
2,000 tons of third-class logs.

(ii) From the Middle Andaman—

2,400 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
2,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

4,200 tons of first-class logs,
2,800 tons of second-class logs,
4,000 tons of third-class logs.

The outturn for the last six years of the license will be determined by working plans to be drawn up hereafter.

7. In addition the licensees will be permitted to cut, subject to previous marking, should this in the opinion of the Forest Officer be considered desirable, and to such limits as to area and number as may be imposed by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands from time to time, other species as follows :—

Gurjan over 8 ft. in girth, didu and pyinma over 7½ ft. in girth, and koko, black chuglam, white chulgam, white bambwe, red bambwe, and taungpein over 6 ft. in girth.

8. The timber will, in all cases, be measured in the round log either at the stump or at collecting depôts as may be found convenient by the Forest Department. All felled timber will be held to be at the risk of the licensees and to be liable to the payment of royalty which must be paid before removal from the islands or conversion in a sawmill.

9. For the first three years of the license royalty will be payable at the rates agreed on and on the amount of timber felled; but thereafter minima annual royalties will be payable as follows:—

(i) for the North Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(ii) for the Middle Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(iii) in case of a combined license for both islands, Rs. 2,00,000 per annum.

10. Except with the special permission of the Divisional Forest Officer all padauk trees, sound or unsound, which have been marked by the forest officers as in their opinion worth conversion, must be felled and royalty paid on them.

11. Should the licensees desire to exploit any form of minor produce or any timber other than those species mentioned above, they may be permitted to do so on terms to be settled hereafter by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

12. The licensees will be subject to such restrictions as the Government of India may prescribe to prevent communication between their employés and the convict population in the Andamans.

13. Subject to the general control of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands the cultivation of field crops solely for the support of the labour force will be permitted free of taxation.

14. Facilities will be provided at Stewart Sound for wireless telegraphy, and as far as may be possible for a weekly steamer or launch connection for postal purposes between this place and Port Blair.

15. Such padauk timber as may be available from departmental working in the areas not included in the first paragraph of this notice or in sub-periodic blocks in which felling and extraction of timber has been completed by the licensees in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 above and as may not be required for local consumption in the islands or for issue to State-worked railways or other Government departments in India and Burma, will be sold either by public auction or by public tender, provided that the quantity to be so sold annually, commencing from the first of January 1917, shall not exceed 500 tons of squares and 1,000 tons of scantlings. There will be no limit to the quantity of timber other than padauk which may be extracted from the areas under reference, and no restriction as to its disposal.

16. The Inspector-General of Forests, Simla, will answer calls for further information.

17. Tenders must be submitted on forms to be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, and must be accompanied by a receipt for the payment into any Government Treasury of a sum of Rs. 1,500 in cash or in Government securities. This deposit will be returned to unsuccessful tenderers, but in the case of persons whose tenders have been accepted will be subject to forfeiture in the event of their failure to execute within the time specified the agreement referred to below.

18. All persons whose tenders have been accepted will be required to execute an agreement in a form approved by the Government of India, copies of which can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla. This agreement must be signed within three months of the acceptance of the tender.

19. Tenders, marked "Tender for Andamans Timber License", should be submitted so as to reach the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla, on or before the 1st September 1915. The Government of India do not undertake to accept the highest or any tender either for padauk or for other timbers, or to assign any reasons for the refusal or acceptance of any tender.

20. Without the written sanction of the Government of India no transfer, assignment or sub-letting of their license by the licensees will be valid.

L. J. KERSHAW,
Secretary to the Government of India,
Department of Revenue and Agriculture.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE permanent policy in regard to the investment of the Indian Paper Currency Reserve is awaiting consideration in connection with the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Indian Finance and Currency. Meanwhile, without prejudice to the final decision, which may thus be reached, it was recently decided, as a temporary measure, to take power to increase the maximum investment of Rs. 14 crores authorised by the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1910, up to a total not exceeding Rs. 20 crores, with a view to providing for loans to the Presidency Banks should this be required for the assistance of trade in the conditions arising out of the war, or alternatively to enable Government, if necessary, to obtain additional funds for general purposes. Effect was given to this decision by the Indian Paper Currency Amendment Ordinance, 1915, which was promulgated on the 16th January last, i.e., several days after the passing of the Emergency Legislation Continuance Act, 1915, which extended the operation of all Ordinances in force on the date when it was passed, namely, 12th January, 1915, during the continuance of the present war and for a period of six months thereafter. The Ordinance dealing with the Paper Currency investment is thus excluded from its scope, and a special Bill has accordingly to be introduced to secure its prolongation.

2. This Bill is in the form of an amendment to the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1910, and has the effect of conferring power on Government to increase the investment of the Paper Currency Reserve up to a maximum of Rs. 20 crores during the continuance of the present war and for a period of six months thereafter. The result produced is thus precisely the same as if the Ordinance dealing with this matter had come within the scope of the Emergency Legislation Continuance Act, 1915.

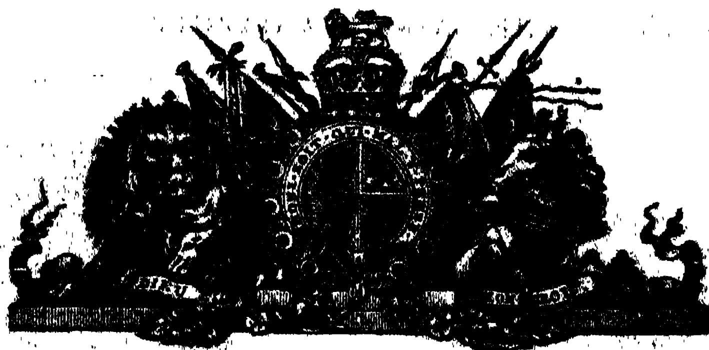
STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Hindu University Society having requested the foundation of a University and funds having been collected to this end, it is proposed to dissolve the said Society and to transfer its property and rights to a new body called the Benares Hindu University. The present Bill is designed to incorporate this University, to indicate its functions, to create its governing bodies and to define their functions. It also secures to the University the assurance of a permanent endowment and to Government the necessary powers of control. It permits the University to found and control colleges in Benares (in addition to the present Central Hindu College) and also to extend its privileges to other colleges in Benares. These colleges will be the constituent colleges of the University. The degrees conferred will be recognised by Government. Special features of the University will be the imparting of Hindu religious education to Hindus and the [illegible] of faculties of oriental learning and Theology.

2. The Bill also provides for the making of Statutes and Regulations. The first statutes are scheduled to the Bill and consist of those which are necessary in order that the University may commence its work when the conditions necessary to its inception have been fulfilled.



3. The general terms of the Bill and the Statutes are the outcome of long negotiations and were finally discussed with a sub-committee appointed by the Hindu University Society.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 1 of 1915 ; (This Office No. 45 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to the approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that

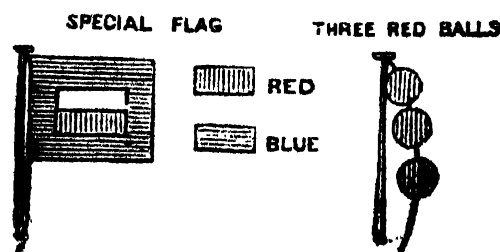
PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.



(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination Anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry:—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.

(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(9) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(10) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(11) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

PART IV.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

H. M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser, and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals :—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

COURSES OF STUDY.

General information.

For convenience of organization the school is divided into five departments as follows:—

(1) Elementary Department.
(2) Industrial Art ,,
(3) Draftsman ,,
(4) Teacher ,,
(5) Fine Art ,,

All students joining the school must pass through a prescribed course, extending over two years, in the Elementary Department.

A student who satisfactorily proves that he has a thorough knowledge of the subject of this department will be permitted to pass into any one of the other departments. The course of study in each of these extends approximately over a period of three years; including the two years normally spent in the Elementary Department, each full course may be said therefore to occupy about five years. In each of the departments, except the Elementary, a full course is arranged for students desiring to make special study and practice of a particular art. Each full departmental course is complete in itself. Shorter courses are specially arranged for purposes of more general study.

Students studying any course are required to attend any lantern lectures that may be given in the school relating to their particular subject or course.

Students are not permitted to pass from a lower to a more advanced stage in any department until the Principal has credited the student with proficiency in the subjects of the lower stage.

EXAMINATIONS.

The annual examination is held in the month of March, and each student who has been regular in attendance is permitted to sit. Promotions, free admissions and scholarships are awarded on the results of the annual examination. The school-leaving certificate is also made out according to the successes obtained by the student in this examination.

VACATION AND HOLIDAY STUDY.

During the vacation students are expected to continue their instruction "in the field," and to make studies of landscape, animals, foliage and other natural subjects in their immediate surroundings. These will be examined on the re-assembly of the school and the results of a student's activity during the vacation will be considered in connection with the annual examination and his year's work.

SCHOOL DIPLOMAS.

(1) A certificate is granted to a student who satisfactorily completes his course. The subjects in which he has been successful will be inscribed on the certificate, which will also include general remarks as to his capabilities, etc.

(2) A certificate may, in special cases, be granted to a student who has partially completed his course, the stage which he has reached being indicated on the certificate.

FREE ADMISSIONS AND SCHOLARSHIPS.

Free admissions are granted to a limited number of deserving students, preference being given to the sons of artizans who intend to become art craftsmen.

Scholarships to the total amount of Rs. 75 per mensem are sanctioned by Government. These are awarded mainly on the results of the annual examinations. Free admissions and scholarships will be generally allotted to the Elementary and Industrial Art Departments; in the other departments they will only be awarded in special cases to students with small means who show marked talent.

Every effort is made to enable students to obtain subsistence allowances from different communities, institutions and local bodies who may be sufficiently interested in their welfare to entertain the sanction of the small sum of money necessary for them to carry on their studies in the school. Copies of the following circular will be forwarded to any address supplied, with strong recommendations in the cases of exceptionally deserving students.

Scholarship Circular.

In forwarding herewith a copy of the prospectus of the Government School of Art, Calcutta, for your perusal, I have the honour to call your attention to the aims and objects of this institution, and to point out the opportunity it provides for youths of all classes to learn a useful art or artistic handicraft which will give them a congenial and profitable occupation in after-life. With this purpose in view, the School of Art has attracted students from all parts of India, many of whom, having passed through their course, have found employment which has brought them substantial remuneration, and amply repaid them for the time they spent in the school. Most of the students now working in the school attend on their own initiative, but a certain number are provided with scholarships granted for this purpose by local bodies or private communities. It is to this particular aspect of the school that attention is specially invited, as it is believed that if the manifold advantages of providing a deserving youth with a small maintenance allowance to enable him to study in the school for four years were only more widely known, the number of these scholarships would be considerably augmented. Experience has indicated that in almost every locality or district there are lads who show either a great aptitude in their hereditary handicraft or a talent for drawing which their circumstances do not permit them to develop or improve. A subsistence allowance of Rs. 15 per mensem sanctioned by a local authority or community to enable the youth to put his aspirations into effect in the School of Art will not only serve a useful purpose in educating the boy in the direction of his desires, but may also be a means of raising the standard of any local art industry by improving its designs and technique. It is hoped that attention having been called to this inexpensive method of encouraging deserving students to carry out their artistic aims in the School of Art, may lead to more of these useful stipends being sanctioned by those who are in a position to do so. Your own personal assistance and kind co-operation in bringing this system of local scholarships to the notice of those interested will be much appreciated.

PRIZES.

Departmental prizes.

Money prizes are awarded on the results of the annual examination and the year's work.

If a sufficiently high standard of work is attained, a first and second prize will be awarded annually to each class.

Prizes will also be awarded for attendance and for exemplary conduct in the hostel.

Vacation prizes.

BOARDING-HOUSE.

There is a hostel in connection with the school, situated at 34 Corporation Street, about 12 minutes walk from the school.

The guardian shall be nominated by the father of the pupil.

(3) Scholarship-holders and free-studentship-holders must be boarders of the Hostel unless specially exempted by the Principal.

(4) The allocation of seats rests with the Superintendent.

(5) Withdrawal from the hostel requires the sanction of the Principal; and expulsion from the hostel means expulsion from the school as well.

(6) Cleanliness must be strictly observed by the boarders. Spitting in the rooms, passages, verandahs, etc., is strictly prohibited.

a written explanation; if the explanation be not considered adequate, the case will be reported to the Principal.

(11) No boarder is permitted to absent himself from the school unless he is actually ill or granted leave by the Superintendent.

(12) No outsiders will be allowed to stay in the hostel between 8-30 P.M. and 6 A.M. without the written permission of the Superintendent.

(14) Parents and relatives of the boarders may stay in the Hostel by the special permission of the Superintendent for two days as guests, but in no case shall such permission be given for a longer period than four days. For the last two days a fee of annas eight per day will be charged. This is a special privilege, and in no case can it be claimed as a right. Permission will only be given when there is room enough for such guests, and provided there is no objection on the part of the regular occupants of the room.

(15) Any case of infectious diseases is to be at once reported to the Principal by the Superintendent.

(16) In case of serious misconduct the boarder who commits the offence will be at once reported to the Principal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the Rabi Crops of Bengal, 1914-15.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1912-13, the area under summer rice in Bengal represents some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—The sowings were generally commenced in the normal time. The progress was somewhat slow on account of the defective rainfall both in September and October. The crops at their early stage suffered to some extent owing to a state of drought prevailing in November and the first part of December. Moderate rainfall during the latter part of December, however, greatly improved the situation. The rainfall in January, although defective, was fairly evenly distributed throughout the Province and was helpful to the growth of the crops. In February also the rainfall was slightly in defect of the normal, but the season was not unfavourable as there was no lack of moisture in the fields. The season on the whole was fairly satisfactory in the Northern Bengal districts but less favourable elsewhere.

Acreage.—The normal area under the different rabi crops in the Province dealt with in the forecast is estimated at 3,956,300 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 3,124,700 acres against 3,194,200 acres last year, which shows a slight decrease. 375,400 acres are reported to be under summer (boro) rice this year. against 375,900 acres (revised) last year.

Outturn.—Estimated percentages of outturn in the sixteen districts where the crop is most important are as follows :—Rangpur 103, Tippera 95, Jalpaiguri 82, Pabna 80, Dacca 79, Noakhali 78, Faridpur 77, Bakarganj and Midnapore 75, Malda and Mymensingh 73, Murshidabad 68, Burdwan 67, Jessore 61, Rajshahi 56, and Nadia 55.

According to the estimates of the District Officers the outturn of the different rabi crops for the Province as a whole works out to 75 per cent., against 89 per cent. of the normal last year.

Accepting 86 per cent. as the outturn of summer rice, the gross yield of the crop for the Province on the basis of a normal yield of 13½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 3,202,100 cwts., against 3,504,600 cwts. (revised) last year. The decrease works out to about 8·6 per cent. on last year's outturn.

(b) cause the car to be taken to the Commissioner, or to an Officer appointed by him in this behalf, for the purpose of obtaining a certificate showing that the provisions of rules 1 and 2 in this Part have been sufficiently complied with in respect of the car.

(3) If the Commissioner or the said officer is satisfied that the provisions of rules 1 and 2 in this Part have been sufficiently complied with in respect of a car brought to him under either of the two foregoing sub-rules, he may grant a certificate to that effect and thereupon the car shall be deemed to have been registered under these rules and the Commissioner shall cause to be made in the register of motor-cars such entries in respect of the car as are required by sub-rule (b) of rule 1 in this Part.

(4) Until it has been registered under these rules or the certificate referred to in sub-rule (3) has been obtained, no heavy motor-car shall be used except for the purpose of being taken to be registered or examined for the purposes of sub-rule 1 or 2 of this rule.

(c) The non-driving wheels, if fitted with non-resilient tyres, must be smooth and without any projection, and shall not be constructed of separate plates separated by any spaces whatsoever.

(2) The width of the non-resilient tyre of each wheel of a heavy motor-car shall be not less than six inches and the tyres of the wheels on the same axle shall be of equal width.

(3) The permissible axle-load shall not exceed five hundredweights for each inch in width of the combined width of the two tyres of the axle in question.

Diameter of wheels of heavy motor-car.

6. The diameter of the wheels of a heavy motor-car, if they are fitted with a tyre which is not pneumatic nor made of a soft or elastic material, must be not less than two feet six inches.

Use of heavy motor-car upon bridges.

7. (1) When any authority who is liable for the repair of a bridge affixes or sets up in suitable and conspicuous positions on the bridge and on each approach to the bridge, notices stating that the bridge is insufficient to carry a heavy motor-car the registered axle-weight of any axle of which exceeds such weight as may be specified in such notices, the owner of any such car shall not cause or suffer the car to be driven, and the person driving or in charge of any such car shall not drive the car upon the bridge, except with the written consent of the said authority.

(2) No owner of a heavy motor-car, the axle-weight of any axle of which exceeds six tons, shall cause or suffer the car to be driven, and no person driving or in charge of any such car shall drive the car upon any bridge at any time when another heavy motor-car is on the bridge.

Restriction on use of trailers.

9. (1) No heavy motor-car which is used either as a stage carriage or otherwise for the conveyance of passengers for gain or hire, shall draw a trailer.

(2) Not more than one trailer shall be drawn by any motor-car :

Provided that the Commissioner may, by order, for special reasons to be recorded by him, permit more than one trailer to be drawn by any such car upon such conditions (if any) as may be specified in such order.

Marking of trailer.

10. The owner of every trailer shall cause to be printed or otherwise plainly marked on a conspicuous part of the right or off side of the trailer, in letters and figures not less than one inch in height, and of such shape and colour as to be clearly legible and clearly distinguishable from the colour of the ground whereon the said marking is made.—

(a) the weight of the trailer when unladen, and

(b) the axle-weight of each axle of the trailer, if the weight of the trailer when unladen exceeds one ton:

and shall cause the said marking to be from time to time repaired or renewed. as often as may be necessary to keep the said letters and figures clearly legible and clearly distinguishable.

Axle-weight of trailers.

11. The axle-weight of an axle of a trailer shall not exceed four tons.

Power of Commissioner or his officer to ascertain axle-weight of heavy motor-car or trailer at any time.

12. (1) Whenever the Commissioner, or any officer duly authorized by him in this behalf, has reasonable ground for suspecting that the axle-weight for the time being of any axle of any heavy motor-car or trailer drawn thereby exceeds the registered or marked axle-weight of that axle, he may—

(a) require the person driving or in charge of the car to drive the car, or cause it to be driven, with or without the trailer, to a weighing machine, and

(b) cause the axle-weight for the time being of any such axle to be ascertained.

(2) The person driving or in charge of such car shall comply with any such requirement, and shall to the best of his ability afford all such facilities as may reasonably be necessary for the purpose of ascertaining the axle-weight as aforesaid.

Width of tyres of trailers.

13. To every trailer exceeding one ton in weight, when unladen, the wheels of which are fitted with tyres which are not pneumatic nor made of soft or elastic material, clause (c) of sub-rule (1) and sub-rules (2) and (3) of rule 5 in this Part shall apply, with the substitution—

(a) of three inches for six inches as the minimum width of the tyres, and

(b) of references to the axle-weights marked upon the trailer in pursuance of rule 10 for the references to registered axle-weights.

Diameter of wheels of heavy trailers.

14. Rule 6 shall apply to every trailer, exceeding one ton in weight when unladen, the wheels of which are fitted with tyres which are not pneumatic nor made of a soft or elastic material.

PART IV.—Motor-cabs ("Taxis").

1. For the purpose of these rules a "motor-cab" or "taxi-cab" means a light motor-car, as defined in Part I, which stands or plies for hire in any public place.

2. No light motor-car shall stand or ply for hire unless it is registered as a motor-cab. The registration of every motor-cab shall be renewed once every twelve months and no motor-cab may be used unless it holds a subsisting certificate.

3. On the registration of a motor-car as a motor-cab, a certificate of registration shall be granted by the Commissioner of Police.

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in sub-rule (3) of rule 1 in Part II of these rules the fee payable for the first registration of a motor-car which is intended for use as a motor-cab shall be Rs. 16 and the fee payable for every re-registration of such a car shall be Rs. 8.

5. (1) A license to drive a motor-cab shall be in a form prescribed by the Commissioner of Police.

(2) The driver named in the license shall at all times when on duty with a motor-cab wear in a conspicuous position a metal badge to be supplied by the Commissioner of Police bearing the number of the license, such badge to remain the property of the Commissioner, and to be surrendered if the license is suspended or cancelled for any reason or on the expiry of the same.

(3) All changes in the licensee's address shall be at once notified to the Commissioner of Police by a written notice signed by the holder of the license, and quoting the number and date of the license.

(4) Neither the license nor the badge above referred to shall be transferred or lent to any other person under any circumstances whatever.

(5) A fee of Rs. 10 shall be paid to the Commissioner of Police on the issue of the license. No extra charge shall be made for the badge. If the license be suspended or cancelled for any breach of the rules or the conditions herein contained, a fee of Rs. 10 shall be payable when the license is re-issued or a new one granted.

(6) The license shall be in force for one year from the date of issue, and be subject thereafter to renewal annually on payment of Rs. 2.

(7) The holder of a license to drive a taxi-cab is entitled on application to receive also a license to drive a light motor-car without further examination or payment of fees.

6. An applicant for a motor-cab driver's license under these rules shall, before receiving such license, satisfy the Commissioner of Police that he is acquainted with the principal places and streets in and around Calcutta and Howrah, that he has a thorough knowledge of the prescribed rates for hire and that he is in all respects a fit person to be the driver of a motor-cab.

7. For any breach of these rules any motor-cab driver's license may be cancelled or suspended or otherwise dealt with by the Local Government.

8. (1) No motor-car shall be used as a motor-cab, unless it is fitted with a taxi-meter or other approved mechanical device for automatically and visibly registering on each occasion the fare to be charged according to the rates for distance or time or a combination of distance and time. The taxi-meter must be fixed to and operated from a "non-driving wheel." Every taxi-meter when in use shall be locked and sealed, so that it may not be tampered with.

(2) Every taxi-meter shall be fitted with an indicator or handle in the form of a flag on which shall be printed the words "for hire." The taxi-meter shall be so constructed that when the indicator is vertical the taxi-meter shall be out of action. Such indicator shall be so placed as to be clearly visible to any person outside of and in front of the vehicle, and to the hirer when inside.

(3) The vertical position shall indicate that the vehicle is available for hire, and no driver shall without reasonable excuse refuse to accept a fare when the indicator is in the vertical position.

(4) Any owner, driver, attendant or other person who shall break or tamper in any way with the seal placed on the taxi-meter, or who shall, with intent to deceive, tamper with the taxi-meter or the driving mechanism thereof, shall be deemed to have committed a breach of this rule.

9. Every taxi-meter referred to in rule 8 shall, after it is affixed to a motor-cab, whether for the first time or after repair or other readjustment, be submitted to the Commissioner of Police, or to such officer as he may empower in this behalf for the purpose of examination as to correctness of fittings, and of subjection to a practical road-test over a measured distance of one mile and a time-test of not less than half an hour. If found to be correct, the taxi-meter and its fittings shall then be sealed to the motor-cab in such a manner that it cannot be removed or tampered with without the seals being broken or removed.

10. Every taxi-meter shall, at the end of each period of six months (the first of such periods commencing from the date of the test referred to in rule 9), be submitted to a test similar to that prescribed by rule 9:

Provided that every taxi-meter shall, at any time, if so required by the Commissioner of Police, be submitted to him or to such officer as he may empower in this behalf, for the purpose of undergoing such test or any portion thereof.

11. The owner of every motor-cab shall cause to be kept in the cab, for the inspection of the public, a register in which the testing officer referred to in rule 9 shall, after each of the tests prescribed in rules 9 and 10, enter the date and result of such test.

12. Every motor-cab shall be provided with a light so placed as to illuminate the taxi-meter at night.

13. In every motor-cab there shall be available for the inspection of customers a list of rates, and the fare charged for the hire of the motor shall not exceed the maximum fare calculated according to the scale of such of the said rates as may be applicable.

14. The driver of every motor-cab shall, as soon as he is hired and no sooner, set the taxi-meter in motion, and upon the termination of the hiring shall immediately stop the same. If he neglects or fails to do so, he shall be deemed to have committed a breach of this rule. But if a motor-cab is called from a garage or a stand to take up a passenger at any place less than 500 yards from the garage or stand, the taxi-meter shall not be set in motion until the motor-cab shall arrive at such place and be ready to take up the passenger:

Provided that in the event of a motor-cab whilst hired being unable to proceed from any mechanical derangement or tyre failure, whether temporarily or otherwise, the driver shall at once stop the mechanism of the taxi-meter as against the hirer, and shall not re-start the same until such time as the defect is remedied.

15. A driver of a motor-cab shall, in the absence of reasonable cause to the contrary, proceed to the destination named by the hirer and by the shortest and quickest route.

16. The brakes of a motor-cab shall be so affixed as to be capable of easy application. At least one brake shall be so made as to be applied by the foot of the driver, and at least one shall act directly upon the road wheels.

17. All brake and steering connections secured with bolts shall have such bolts secured with nuts, the same to be locked or pinned.

18. Every motor-cab shall be capable of being readily steered, and able to turn on each lock and to proceed in a contrary direction within a roadway not more than 30 feet wide from kerb to kerb:

Provided that the Commissioner of Police may, in his discretion, grant a certificate of registration as a motor-cab to a motor-car intended for use as a motor-cab, if such car is capable of turning within a reasonable space over and above the said space of 30 feet.

19. The wheel-tracks of the front and the rear wheels must, so far as is possible, coincide (i.e., the wheel-track of the rear wheels must be the same as the wheel-track of the front wheels); and in no case shall the width of the front wheel-track be less than that of the rear wheel-track or the wheel-tracks vary by more than 2½ per cent. of such width.

20. All the underparts of a motor-cab inside the pivots of the front axle and steering arms (which must be placed as near as possible to the road wheels), as far back at least as the rear axle, must clear the ground at least 10 inches, sufficient allowance in addition being made to provide for the wear of the tyres, set of springs and other causes of lessened height, so that the minimum clearance of 10 inches is at all times maintained.

21. It shall be the duty of the owner to see that all parts of the mechanism of the car are periodically inspected and kept in proper working order, and a register shall be kept of such inspections in a convenient form giving such particulars as the Commissioner of Police may prescribe. This register shall be open at any reasonable time to the inspection of the Commissioner of Police or any person duly authorized by him in that behalf. Any failure to maintain this register or to produce it when called for by lawful authority shall be deemed to be a breach of this rule.

22. In every motor-cab the machinery shall be so constructed that no undue noise or vibration is caused, and shall be maintained in such condition at all times.

23. Carburetters must not, in any motor-cab, be placed in close proximity to magnetos or to connection of wires carrying an electric current, unless such magnetos and wire-connections are respectively screened off or encased in a suitable manner.

24. A second tap shall be provided between the tank and the carburetter, and shall be so constructed that it can be shut off or turned from the exterior of the car. Every motor-cab shall also carry some particular form of efficient fire-extinguisher.

25. No oil shall be allowed to drop upon the roadway, and where a tray or undershield is fixed below the mechanism of the car for the purpose of preventing this or for any other purpose, such tray or undershield shall be so placed or constructed that no petrol from the tank, supply pipe or carburetter can collect therein.

26. Tanks for petrol must be so placed that any overflow shall not fall on or soak into cushions, upholstery or floor mats in or about the body and the filling nozzle shall be brought to and permanently fixed to some point outside the body. No petrol shall be poured into the tank whilst the engine is running or whilst any lamp other than an electric lamp is burning in or on any portion of the car.

27. Effective means shall be provided in every motor-cab for preventing the heat of the motor or of the exhaust pipe connections from injuriously affecting other parts of the cab or interfering with the comfort of passengers. All wires carrying electric current must be properly insulated and protected from injury, and so placed that they cannot be a source of danger.

28. The outlet from the silencer shall not, in any motor-cab, be so placed as to project the exhaust directly on to the road, or be so placed or directed as to alarm horses that may be immediately behind the cab.

29. Every motor-cab shall have at least one driving wheel fitted with an approved means of preventing or limiting side slip, and shall carry at least one spare inflated tyre and rim or other approved device which can, if necessary, be quickly fitted to any wheel.

30. Every motor-cab shall be provided with a means of communication between passenger and driver.

31. Every motor-cab shall be provided with adequate means for the conveyance of a reasonable quantity of luggage, and with a sufficient number of chains, straps or other means of securing such luggage. No luggage shall be carried on the roof of the cab, unless there has been affixed thereto a guard rail of a type approved by the Commissioner of Police or by such officer as he may empower in this behalf.

32. Where acetylene or other gas is used to light the carriage, the cylinders or vessels which contain the gas or in which it is generated must be fixed outside in such a position as to minimize the danger of accidental ignition.

33. No celluloid or xylonite fittings shall be placed inside or outside any motor-cab:

Provided that this rule shall not apply to the inside of the accumulators contained in such cab.

34. No printed or written matter other than the sanctioned rates for hire or these rules shall appear on the outside of a motor-cab or be carried by way of advertisement. Small advertisements of a pattern to be approved by the Commissioner of Police may, however, be exhibited within the cab.

35. The cushions of the seats in every motor-cab shall be covered and stuffed with suitable material to be approved by the Commissioner of Police or by such officer as he may empower in this behalf.

36. The doors, windows, seats, roof, springs, wheels, cushions, linings, panels, etc., and all furniture and appointment of a motor-cab, shall be in proper order and repair, the paint and varnish in good condition and the inside perfectly clean. The floor shall be covered with a mat of rubber, coir or other suitable material.

37. The Commissioner of Police may prohibit the use of a motor-cab which is in his opinion unfit to ply for hire until such time as the defects are remedied to his satisfaction.

38. The carrying capacities of all motor-cabs shall be fixed by the licensing officer.

39. The driver of a motor-cab immediately after any hiring shall carefully search for any property accidentally left in it, and shall take the same within 24 hours, if not sooner claimed by the owner, to the nearest police-station.

40. The drivers at motor-cab stands shall observe the following rules, namely :—

(1) The drivers of the first two motor-cabs on the stand must stay beside their cabs and must be ready to be hired at once by any person:

Provided that a hirer wishing to hire any particular car on the stand may do so.

(2) All motor-cabs on the stand must move up as vacancies occur.

(3) No motor-cab engaged for some future time shall remain on the stand unless the driver is willing to accept any intermediate hiring that may be offered.

(4) No disabled motor-cab shall remain on the stand unless such disablement is strictly temporary, and can be and is remedied at once. If the disablement is not of such a nature, a notice (in a form to be approved by the Commissioner) shall be at once placed on the cab, to the effect that it cannot be used, and will be removed for repair:

Provided that no hired cab shall be suffered to stand across any street or thoroughfare or opposite the entrance of any street or carriage way.

41 No driver of a motor-cab shall—

(a) be drunk during his employment,

(b) make use of insulting or abusive language or gesture,

(c) stand (elsewhere than at some stand or other place appointed for the purpose) or loiter for the purpose of being hired, in or upon any public street or road or place,

(g) demand more than the proper fare to which he is legally entitled,

(h) before he has been discharged by the hirer, desert from the hiring,

(i) ply for hire with any motor-cab which is at the time unfit for public use, or

(j) shout in order to attract the attention of the public or of a possible hirer, or, for any other reason, act in such a way as to cause inconvenience or annoyance to the public.

42. Every driver of a motor-cab shall wear a prescribed uniform which shall at all times be kept in good and serviceable condition.

43. No person shall wilfully deface or injure any motor-cab.

44. (1) A single tariff, as follows, shall be charged throughout the day and night within a five-mile radius from Government House, Calcutta, namely:—eight annas a mile for the first mile and two annas for every subsequent quarter of a mile.

(2) For journeys outside the five-mile radius, the said tariff shall be charged while the motor-cab is occupied, and if the return journey is made by the motor-cab unoccupied, an additional charge shall be made for the return journey to the nearest point on the five-mile circle. Such additional charge shall be at the rate of four annas a mile.

(3) If the motor-cab is licensed for more than two persons, and at any time during the hiring more than two persons are carried together, the driver shall be entitled to an extra payment of six annas for every person above two so carried, provided that if more than one of the persons are children under the age of 10 years the extra payment for each child shall be three annas only.

(4) The driver shall be entitled to a waiting charge at the rate of Re. 1-14 per hour or two annas for each four minutes, at all times during the day or night.

45. No hirer shall refuse or omit to pay the legal fare for the hire of a motor-cab, nor shall he refuse to give his correct name and address to the driver in case of dispute in connection with the fare.

46. Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, if there is anything in the construction, working or general appearance of a motor-cab which, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Police, renders the vehicle unfit for public use, it shall not be licensed.

PART V.—Motor-omnibuses.

1. For the purpose of these rules a "motor-omnibus" or "motor stage-carriage" means a motor-vehicle (not being a motor-cab) which plies for hire and has seating accommodation for eight or more passengers.

2. Every motor-omnibus plying for hire in a public place shall be registered annually and shall hold a subsisting certificate.

3. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in sub-rule (3) of rule 1 in Part II of these rules, the fee payable for the first registration of a motor-car intended for use as a motor-omnibus shall be Rs. 16 and the fee payable for every re-registration of such a car shall be Rs. 8.

4. The conductor of a motor-omnibus or stage carriage shall, immediately after the completion of a journey, carefully search for any property accidentally left in it, and shall take the same within 24 hours, if not sooner claimed by the owner, to the nearest police-station.

5. (1) No person shall act as a conductor of a motor-omnibus unless he holds a subsisting license granted by the Commissioner of Police or some other competent authority authorising him to conduct a motor-omnibus, and no person shall employ any one to conduct a motor-omnibus who does not hold such a license, for which a fee of Rs. 10 is payable with an annual renewal fee of Rs. 2.

(2) No person shall act as a driver of a motor-omnibus unless he holds a subsisting license granted by the Commissioner of Police or some other competent authority authorising him to drive a motor-omnibus, and no person shall employ any one to drive a motor-omnibus who does not hold such a license, for which a fee of Rs. 10 is payable with an annual renewal fee of Rs. 2.

(3) Every conductor and every driver of a motor-omnibus or stage carriage shall wear a prescribed uniform and badge.

6. No passenger shall refuse or omit to pay the legal fare for the journey in a motor-omnibus.

7. (1) Every motor-omnibus must be presented for inspection in thoroughly good condition, and no vehicle will be certified fit for public use unless it is properly painted and varnished. A proprietor may, if he so desires, apply for a preliminary inspection of the chassis.

(2) The following conditions must also be strictly complied with, namely :—

(a) each new type of motor-vehicle intended for registration as a motor-omnibus must be presented at such place as the Commissioner of Police may appoint for inspection ; and

(b) the proprietor must at the time of inspection produce a certificate from the maker or importer stating that the materials of which all the parts of the vehicle are constructed are good, that the machinery is safe, and that the vehicle is in every way fit for use as a public carriage.

8. (1) If, after inspection, the vehicle is approved, such approval may extend to all vehicles of that description, and others of the same type need not be again presented except as hereinafter provided, but may be taken to such place as the Commissioner may appoint to be registered and passed, provided a certificate from the maker or importer is submitted with each vehicle presented for registration, stating that it is in every respect similar to that already approved and respecting which a certificate has been furnished.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (1), if after the type has been passed, defects develop, which in the opinion of the Commissioner render it unsuitable as a type for public service, the Commissioner may withdraw such approval entirely or until the defects have been remedied to his satisfaction.

9. A certificate from the proprietor of the vehicle, stating that there has been no alteration in the design of the machinery since the previous inspection and date covered by the maker's or importer's certificate, must be presented with each omnibus submitted for renewal of registration. Should any alteration be made, full particulars of such must be stated and the same course of action may be required as for a first inspection.

10. Should it be deemed necessary, an expert, accepted by both parties, shall be employed to advise. The fee for the expert examination must be deposited by the proprietor with the Commissioner, which fee will be returned if the vehicle be passed without any alteration being required.

11. (1) When making application for the vehicle to be inspected the proprietor must specify the route or routes upon which and the hours between which he intends the vehicle to ply, and these routes may not be departed from except after due notice has been given to the Commissioner. and his permission obtained in writing.

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall be taken to prohibit a proprietor changing the route as often as he chooses, provided such route has been previously certified to be suitable for such vehicles.

12. Every motor-omnibus must be so constructed that the following maxima of weight are in no case exceeded :—

Weight.

Unloaded	...	...	... 3 tons.

Or, if the manufacturers prefer—

Back axle-weight laden	...	... 4 tons.
Front axle weight laden	...	... 2 „

The total weight shall not exceed six tons when the vehicle is in every respect ready for service and has its full lawful load; one hundred and forty lbs. each shall be allowed for the passengers, the driver and the conductor.

Chassis-length.

13. The length of the chassis of a motor-omnibus must not exceed 20 feet; but if the platform is to be constructed upon the frame the total length may be 21 feet, provided that the total length of the complete vehicle shall in no case exceed 21 feet.

14. All the underparts of the vehicle inside the pivots of the front axle and steering arms (which must be placed as near as possible to the road wheels) as far back at least as the rear axle must clear the ground at least 10 inches when the vehicle is fully loaded, sufficient allowance in addition being made to provide for the wear of the tyres, set of the springs, or other causes of lessened height, so that the minimum clearance of 10 inches is at all times maintained.

Chassis-springs.

15. (1) The springs of the chassis must be properly hung, and must be of sufficient strength and flexibility to meet all likely contingencies.

(2) The rear springs must be attached to, or bear upon the back axle or axle-casing as near to the road wheels as possible and the distance between the outer edges of such springs must not be less than 5 inches. Where a cross spring is used, it must be so applied that it shall not cause or increase side sway. The front springs must be as wide apart as possible, and be not less than 38 inches from outer edge to outer edge.

Wheel-base.

16. (1) The wheel-base must not exceed 14 feet 6 inches and it must in all cases be so proportioned to the load that the risk of skidding is reduced to a minimum.

(2) If it is found that a vehicle skids badly or cannot be held under proper control, the Commissioner may serve a notice on the proprietor "not to use the vehicle," and may refuse to license the vehicle again until the defects have been remedied.

Wheel-track.

17. The wheel-tracks of both front and rear wheels shall coincide, and the measurement from centre to centre taken in line with the axles must not be less than 5 feet 6 inches.

Road-wheels.

18. The road-wheels must be of sufficient and suitable diameter, but must not be made so heavy as to throw an undue strain upon the steering gear or other parts.

Chassis-tyre.

19. The materials of which the tyres are made must be soft and elastic, so as to reduce vibration. Sectional tyres must not be fitted to a vehicle submitted for inspection and license.

Chassis-breadth.

20. The breadth of the chassis must not be greater than 7 feet 6 inches at any part.

21. Every motor-omnibus must be fitted with at least two independent brakes, each capable of stopping and holding the vehicle under all conditions. They must also, where necessary, be fitted with an approved form of compensating device.

NOTE.—The maintenance of the brakes in perfect order is of the utmost importance, and this will be at all times insisted upon. They will at any time be subject to inspection by the Police.

22. The brakes shall be so fixed as to be capable of easy application, and at least one must be applied by a pedal. Brakes will not be deemed independent which are operated by pedals or levers acting through the same connections, upon the same brake blocks, or upon the same brake drums, and at least one must act directly upon the road-wheel without any connection with the propelling gear.

23. The operation of either brake must in no case declutch.

24. Motor-omnibuses, which are intended to ply upon routes which have bridges, will be subject to a special test, and additional brakes or further fittings may be required.

25. Each vehicle must be capable of being readily steered and of turning corners without unduly interfering with other traffic.

26. The steering arms and other connections of the vehicle must be of ample strength, and as far as possible protected from damage by collision.

27. The ball and socket joints of steering connections, when such are used, should not be pendant, but the longitudinal or transverse rods must be carried upon the ball.

28. All brake and steering connections secured with bolts or pins must have such bolts threaded and fitted with nuts, which latter must be locked or pinned. The whole of the brake and steering parts must be maintained in perfect order, and will be subject to inspection by the Police at any time.

29. All parts connected by bolts, or studs and nuts, subject to severe vibration, must be fastened by lock nuts, or by nuts and approved spring or lock nut washers, to prevent their working loose and causing noise, and any vehicle with lamp brackets or other fittings loose, and likely to cause unnecessary noise, will be regarded as unfit for public service.

30. The machinery must be so constructed that no undue noise or vibration arises from its use.

NOTE.—The maintenance of the vehicle in a satisfactory condition in this respect will be strictly enforced.

31. Every vehicle must be submitted at a time and place appointed, to be specially tested in respect of noise and vibration.

32. Every omnibus must be so geared that its highe[illegible]ed shall not be in excess of the maximum laid down, viz., 12 miles an[illegible]

33. When a vehicle is subm[illegible]r inspection, the gear [illegible]tio must be supplied and this ratio must not be altered without the authority of the Commissioner. The revolution of the engine when running at the speed which will give 12 miles an hour with the stated highest speed gear must also be supplied.

34. (1) The lubrication of the engine and the carburation of the working mixture must be so controlled that smoke shall not be emitted with the exhaust, or from any other part.

(2) The proprietor of a vehicle which is not properly maintained in accordance with the foregoing sub-rule may be served with a notice "not to use the vehicle" until the defect has been remedied.

35. Carburetters or other petrol receptacles, unless they are suitably encased or screened, must not be placed in close proximity to magnetos, or to connections of wires carrying electric current.

36. When a guard-tray, or undershield, is fixed beneath the engine and adjacent machinery, it must be so constructed that no overflow of petrol shall be retained in the tray.

37. Suitable and approved appliances for extinguishing fire must be carried in such a position as to be readily available for use.

38. Tanks for petrol or other liquid fuel must be made of suitable material, properly constructed, and of sufficient strength. They must be so placed that any overflow shall not fall upon woodwork, or accumulate where it can be readily ignited. The [illegible] inlet for the petrol or other liquid fuel should, where possible, [illegible]t to the outside of the body.

39. All wires carrying electric current must be properly insulated and protected from injury, and so placed that they cannot be a cause of danger.

40. Effective means must be adopted for preventing the heat of the motor, generator or exhaust pipe connections from injuriously affecting any parts of the vehicle or the comfort of the passengers.

41. The exhaust pipe must not be led inside the tray or undershield or be fixed in such a position that oil, or any vaporizable or inflammable material is likely to be dropped upon it.

42. The outlet from the silencer must not be so placed as to project the exhaust directly to the rear or on to the roadway, or be so placed, or so directed as to alarm horses immediately behind the vehicle.

43. The machinery must be so constructed or placed that oil or grease from the bearings cannot drop on to the roadway. The proper maintenance of the vehicle in this respect will be strictly enforced.

44. When trays are fixed beneath the parts, they must have suitable webs for retaining the oil when ascending or descending inclines, or be otherwise suitably constructed with that object. Oil or other material collecting in the trays must be cleaned out frequently and not allowed to accumulate.

45. If requisite, a bar or bars, having an eye or bridle to surround the propeller shaft, must be so fixed, that in the event of either the shaft or gear-box breaking, other damage or danger therefrom is minimised.

46. Driving chains and sprockets must be protected by a suitable guard.

47. The camber shall not ordinarily be more than 3 inches, but may if the proprietor so desires, be made up to but not exceeding 5 inches, provided the outside of the roof is so constructed as to give an equivalent in all respects to a 3-inch camber and the maximum height from the ground is not in any way increased.

48. The height inside measured in the centre line of the omnibus from the top of the floor battens to the lower edge of the hoop stick or other projections must not be less than 5 feet 10 inches nor more than 6 feet to the centre line of the roof-boards. From the ground to the spring of the roof outside, or the edge of the drip-boards, the height must not be greater than 9 feet, nor must the height to the outside centre of the roof be more than 9 feet 3 inches.

49. The width between seat backs must not be less than 56 inches where the seats are placed lengthwise.

50. At least 16 inches measured in a straight line must be allowed for each passenger on every seat, which seat must be fit and proper and convenient for sitting on. When cross or "garden" seats are fitted inside these must be at least 26 inches clear from the inside back of the seat in front of it so that there shall be room for the knees of passengers.

51. Corner pillars for bodies must be of sufficient strength, and the body must be properly ironed and stayed to give the necessary strength for the weight to be carried and to resist the effects of the vibration to which it is liable.

52. No seat will be permitted which, when occupied, is likely to cause obstruction to persons using the landing-board or gangways.

53. The backs of all seats must be closed to avoid unnecessary risk of the pockets of passengers being picked.

54. When cushions are provided for seats, they must be covered with leather, cloth of good quality, rattan or other suitable material.

55. The steps for entrance to the inside must be placed on the near side and at the rear of the vehicle. They must be safe and convenient; suitable and efficient means being provided by rails or bands to assist passengers entering and leaving. The lowest step shall not be more than 15 inches nor less than 10 inches above the ground.

56. The risers of all steps must be closed and the treads of each fitted with an approved form of tread-plate.

57. There must be proper ventilation, without the necessity for opening windows, except where small separate ventilating windows are provided, in which case suitable provision must be made for the opening to be adjustable.

58. When the side-lights are made to be lowered, such provision must be made (by means of guard rails or otherwise) that the arm of a passenger cannot be thrust through so as to be endangered by passing vehicles.

59. Effective means must be provided to prevent the rattling of window frames and glasses.

60. The vehicle must be suitably lighted inside and outside. Where acetylene or other gas is used, the cylinders or vessels which contain the gas or in which it is generated must be fixed outside in such a position as to be removed as far as possible from danger of accidental ignition. The pipes must be led along the outside of the vehicle, but not along the outside of the roof.

61. A hand-bulb horn, for giving due warning of the approach of the vehicle, must be provided.

62. Celluloid or xylonite fittings will not be permitted inside or outside the vehicle, but this does not apply to accumulator cells.

63. A box or other approved means must be fitted to the front and to the rear of the vehicle to show destination to which the vehicle is proceeding. The letters and background must be black and white, respectivly, and the letters at least 4½ inches high and proportionally thick.

64. The principal points of the route shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner and must be painted in black or white letters not less than 4 inches high and of proportionate thickness, and be exhibited on boards to the front and rear of the vehicle. These boards shall be so made that the points of route are shown in geographical sequence according to the direction the vehicle is travelling. Route-boards may also be affixed to the sides of the vehicle.

65. The destination boards shall be illuminated by [illegible]nt in an approved manner for the guidance of intending passengers[illegible]

66. The following particulars [illegible] be suitably painted on the omnibus:—

(a) the weight and speed limit;
(b) the full name and surname of proprietor, to be painted on each side clear of the wheels;
(c) the words "Calcutta and Howrah Stage Carriages" and the number on the number plate, to be painted inside the omnibus and also outside at the back on the near side;
(d) the fares, to be legibly painted inside the omnibus; and
(e) the number of passengers which the vehicle is licensed to carry, to be legibly painted inside and outside the vehicle.

67. No advertisement in black and white will be allowed on the front of the vehicle nor will any writing or lettering be permitted when its form or position is such as to hide, or, in the opinion of the Commissioner, to interfere with the easy legibility of the destination indicators or route-boards.

68. (1) No printed, written or other matter shall appear on the outside or inside of the vehicle, or be carried by way of advertisement, except such, if any, as may be approved by the Commissioner.

(2) Advertisements approved by the Commissioner may be placed on the vehicle in the following positions:—

Front.—From the roof to top of guard-rail on either side, leaving space of 3 feet in the centre for the routes, etc.

Rear.— From the can[illegible] to top of [illegible]ard-rail upon that part not required for th[illegible]ons and routes.
Step treads in corrugated plates, etc.

Inside.— Roof boards.

Outside.—Seat-backs.

NOTE.—The colour of these advertisements must be entirely distinct from that of the route-boards, and they must be so placed or shown that no confusion in reading the routes, etc., is, in the opinion of the Commissioner, likely to arise.

69. No person, except a learner, fitter, or other official when specially authorised by the proprietor (such person to carry a special pass or badge), or a person authorised by the Commissioner, shall be allowed to ride beside the driver at any time.

70. No cans or other receptacle for oil, water, etc., are to be carried on the driver's footboard, nor may anything be placed in such a manner or position as will be likely to hamper the driver or otherwise give cause for complaint.

71. Each carriage must be fitted with an approved means for enabling passengers both inside and outside to signal to the driver or conductor when required.

72. Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, if there is anything in the construction, working or general appearance of a motor-omnibus which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, renders the vehicle unfit for public use, it shall not be licensed.

PART VI.—Motor-lorries.

1. For the purpose of these rules "motor-lorry" means a motor-vehicle which is ordinarily used for the carriage of goods.

2. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in sub-rule (3) of rule 1, Part II of these rules, the fee payable for the first registration of the motor-lorry shall be Rs. 32 and fee payable for annual re-registration shall be Rs. 16.

illegible Every motor-lorry must be presented for inspection in thoroughly good [illegible]ition, and no lorry will be certified fit for use unless it is properly [illegible]. A proprietor may, if he so desires, apply for a preliminary in[illegible]assis.

(3) Th[illegible] following condi[illegible] also be strictly complied with, namely :—

(a) Each new type of motor-vehicle intended for registration as a motor-lorry must be presented at such place as the Commissioner may appoint for inspection ; and

(b) the proprietor must, at the time of inspection, produce a certificate from the maker or importer stating that the materials of which all the parts of the vehicle are constructed are good, that the machinery is safe, and that the vehicle is in every way fit for use as a motor-lorry.

(4) When making application for the motor-lorry to be inspected, the proprietor must spec[illegible]y the route or routes upon which and the hours between which, he i[illegible]tends the vehicle to ply and these routes and hours shall not be departed from except after due notice, has been given to the Commissioner and his permission obtained in writing. The proprietor may, however, change the route as often as he chooses, provided such route has been previously certified to be suitable for heavy motor traction.

3. (1) If[illegible]after inspection, the vehicle is approved, such approval may extend to all vehicles of that description ; and others of the same type need not be again presented, except as hereinafter provided, but may be taken to such place as the Commissioner may appoint, provided a certificate from the maker or importer is submitted with each vehicle presented for registration, stating that it is in every [illegible]spect similar to that already approved.

(2) Notwithstanding an[illegible]ned in sub-rule (1), if, after the type has been passed, defects develop, which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, render it unsuitable as a type for private or public service, the Commissioner may withdraw such approval entirely, or until the defects have been remedied to his satisfaction.

4. A certificate from the proprietor, stating that there has been no alteration in the design of the machinery since the previous inspection and date covered by the maker's or importer's certificate, must be presented with each lorry submitted for renewal of registration.

Should any alteration be made, full particulars of such must be stated, and the same course of action may be required as for a first inspection.

5. Should it be deemed necessary, an expert accepted by both parties shall be employed to advise. The fee for the expert examination must be deposited by the proprietor with the Commissioner. This fee will be returned if the vehicle be passed without any alteration being required.

6. The length of the chassis of a motor-lorry must not exceed 25 feet but if the platform is to be constructed upon the frame, the total length may be 26 feet, provided that the total length of the complete vehicle shall in no case exceed 26 feet.

7. All the underparts of the vehicle inside the pivots of the front axle and steering arms (which must be placed as near as possible to the road wheels) as far back at least as the rear axle must clear the ground at least 10 inches when the vehicle is fully loaded; sufficient allowance in addition being made to provide for the wear of the tyres, set of the springs or other causes of lessened height so that the minimum clearance of 10 inches is at all times maintained.

8. (1) All chassis springs must be properly hung, and must be of sufficient strength and flexibility to meet all likely contingencies.

(2) The rear springs must be attached to or bear upon the back axle or the axle casing as near to the road-wheels as possible, and the distance between the outer edges of such springs must not be less than 15 inches.

Where a cross spring is used, it must be so applied that it shall not cause or increase side sway. The front springs must be as wide apart as possible, and not less than 38 inches from outer edge to outer edge.

9. (1) The wheel-base of the chassis must not exceed 16 feet 6 inches, and must in all cases be so proportioned to the load that the [illegible] skidding is reduced to a minimum.

(2) If it is found that a vehicle skids badly or cannot be held under proper control, the Commissioner may serve a notice on the proprietor "not to use the vehicle" and may refuse to license the vehicle again until the defects have been remedied.

10. The wheel-tracks of front and rear wheels shall coincide, and the measurement from centre to centre, taken in line with the axles, must not be less than 5 feet 6 inches.

11. The chassis road-wheels must be of sufficient and suitable diameter, but must not be made so heavy as to throw an undue strain upon the steering gear or other parts.

12. The breadth of the chassis must not be greater than 7 feet 6 inches at any part.

13. The chassis load shall not exceed 10 feet from the roadway in height or overlap the width of the lorry:

Provided that for special reasons to be recorded in writing the Commissioner of Police may permit the height of a load to exceed 10 feet.

14. Each vehicle must be fitted with at least two independent brakes, each capable of stopping and holding the lorry under all conditions. It must also, where necessary, be fitted with an approved form of compensating device.

NOTE.—The maintenance of the brakes in perfect order is of the utmost importance, and this will at all times be subject to inspection by the Police.

15. The brakes shall be so affixed as to be capable of easy adjustment, and at least one must be applied by a pedal. Brakes will not be deemed independent which are operated by pedals, or levers acting through the same connections, upon the same brake blocks, or upon the same brake drums, and at least one must act directly upon the road-wheels without any connection with the propelling gear.

16. The operation of either brake must in no case declutch.

17. Each vehicle must be capable of being readily steered and of turning corners without unduly interfering with other traffic.

18. The steering arms, and other connections of the vehicle, must be of ample strength, and so far as possible protected from damage by collision.

19. The ball and socket joints of steering connections, when such are used, should not be pendant, but the longitudinal or transverse rods must be carried upon the ball.

20. All brake and steering connections secured with bolts or pins must have such bolts threaded and fitted with nuts, which latter must be locked or pinned. The whole of the brake and steering parts must be maintained in perfect order and will be subject to inspection by the Police at any time.

21. All parts connected by bolts, or studs or nuts, subject to severe vibration, must be fastened by lock nuts, or by nuts and approved spring or lock nut washers, to prevent their working loose and causing noise, and any lorry with lamp brackets or other fittings loose, and likely to cause unnecessary noise, will be regarded as unfit for service.

22. The machinery must be so constructed that no undue noise or vibration arises from its use.

NOTE.—The maintenance of the carriage in a satisfactory condition in this respect will be strictly enforced.

23. Every new vehicle must be submitted at a time and place appointed, [illegible] be specially tested in respect of noise and vibration.

24. (1) The lubrication of the engine and the carburation of the working mixture must be so controlled that smoke shall not be emitted with the exhaust, or from any other part.

(2) The [illegible]tor of a vehicle which is not properly maintained in accordance with the foregoing [illegible] will be served with a notice "not to use the vehicle" until the defect has been remedied.

25. Carburetters or other petrol receptacles, unless they are suitably encased or screened, must not be placed in close proximity to magnetos, or to connections of wires carrying electric current.

26. The guard-tray, or undershield, fixed beneath the engine and adjacent machinery, must be so constructed that no overflow of petrol shall be retained in the tray.

27. Suitable and approved means for extinguishing fire must be carried in such a position as to be readily available for use.

28. Tanks for petrol or other liquid fuel must be made of suitable material properly constructed, and of sufficient strength. They must be so placed that any overflow shall not fall upon woodwork, or accumulate where it can readily ignite. The filling nozzle or inlet for the petrol or other liquid fuel should, where possible, be brought to the outside of the body.

29. All wires carrying electric current must be properly insulated and protected from injury, and so placed that they cannot be a cause of danger.

30. Effective means must be adopted for preventing the heat of the motor, generator or exhaust pipe connections from injuriously affecting any parts of the vehicle.

31. The exhaust pipe must not be led inside the tray or undershield or be fixed in such a position [illegible]y vaporizable or inflammable material is likely to be dropped [illegible].

32. The outlet from the silencer must not be so placed as to project the exhaust directly to the rear or on to the roadway, or be so placed, or so directed as to alarm horses immediately behind the vehicle.

33. The machinery must be so constructed or placed that oil or grease from the bearings cannot drop on to the roadway. The proper maintenance of the vehicle in this respect will be strictly enforced.

34. When trays are fixed beneath the parts, they must have suitable webs for retaining the oil when ascending or descending hills, or be otherwise suitably constructed with that object. Oil or other materials collecting in the trays must be cleaned out frequently and not allowed to accumulate.

35. If requisite, a bar or bars, having an eye or bridle to surround the propeller shaft, must be so fixed that in the event of either the shaft or gear-box breaking other damage or danger therefrom is minimised.

36. Driving chains and sprockets must be protected by a suitable guard.

37. Corner pillars for bodies must be of sufficient strength, and the body must be properly ironed and stayed to give the necessary strength for the weight to be carried and to resist the effects of the vibration to which it is liable.

38. Head-lights will not be permitted unless they are properly hooded or screened.

39. A hand bulb horn, for giving due warning of the approach of the vehicle, must be provided.

40. Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, if there is anything in the construction, working or general appearance of a motor-lorry which, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Police, renders the carriage unfit for public use, it shall not be licensed.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

The 6th April 1915.

No. 4—Notification.—In supersession of those portions of Bengal Government notification No. 98, dated the 4th April 1893, and notification No. 10, dated the 22nd December 1906, which relate to the Hijili Tidal Canal and the portion of the Orissa Coast Canal lying in this Presidency, the following draft of (1) revised rules and (2) revised schedules of rates of tolls, which in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Hijili Tidal Canal and the portion of the Orissa Coast Canal lying in this Presidency, is published, as required by section 12 of that Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 20th May 1915 and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel, entering or passing along any of the above lines of navigation, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on the line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

(a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

(b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

(c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.

(d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found under clauses (a), (b) and [illegible]de for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along any of the above lines of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the canals or any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but [illegible] be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted, and [illegible] the station from whence issued.

7. Dupl[illegible]tickets of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, [illegible]ted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose	...	One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats	...	Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts	...	Eight annas per 100 per day.

Provided as follows:—

(1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in canal by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.

(2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canal[illegible]

(3) Partial exemption from [illegible] of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus:—

(a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3) which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds (N.B.—from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed);

(b) by granting the following extra times for the purpose of bona fide loading and unloading in the canals to—

		Days.
Cargo boats from 10 to 100 maunds of measurement	...	5
„ „ from 110 to 200 maunds	... ...	8
„ „ from 210 to 300 maunds	... ...	10
„ „ from 310 to 400 maunds	... ...	12
„ „ of 410 maunds and upwards	... ...	14
Passenger boats of 10 maunds and upwards	...	3

The extra times will be granted to boats which either load or unload or both in the canals, but will not apply to boats which both enter and leave the canal empty, the time allowed being as laid down in rule 3 only.

(c) Boats plying in the Balighye main and branch drains will be allowed extra times as noted above for both journeys—entering and leaving—separately, even if plying empty.

9. Boats are allowed to be moored while waiting for cargo or otherwise, or may be loaded and unloaded, anywhere in the canals, except within 500 feet of any lock and within 150 feet on either side of any sluice and except where specially prohibited by the canal staff. In any case they must complete the voyage within the time allowable to them under these orders, otherwise demurrage will be charged.

10. No boat is permitted to moor in the outer channels of any lock. The channels to which this prohibition extends are as follows :—

Gewankhali.—Between the Gewankhali lock and the Gewankhali khal.
Etamagra.—Between the Etamagra lock and the Haldi river.
Terpakia.—Between the Terapakia lock and the Haldi river.
Kalinagar.—Between the Kalinagar lock and the Sadar khal.
Bhaitgar.—Between the Bhaitgar lock and the Rasulpur river.

No boats will be allowed, under any circumstances, to [illegible] anchor or to moor to both banks in any lock, entrance or in the channels, except in the case of severe stress of weather.

11. Except with the written permission of a navigation officer, no goods or cargo may be deposited on any bank, berm or land appertaining to the canal at places other than those notified by the Superintending Engineer of the circle as available for such a purpose. Any person depositing goods in contravention of this rule shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Navigation officers may order consignors or consignees or owners to remove their goods from the places notified as available for depositing cargo under rule 11. Goods not finally removed within a period of six days from the receipt of such order shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds for each day or part of a day after the expiry of six days until finally removed.

13. Any vessel whose extreme dimensions exceed 130 feet in length and 19 feet in breadth including goods overhanging is prohibited from entering or passing along the canals or a line of navigation without the special permission in writing of the Executive Engineer; also no vessel exceeding 40 feet in length and 8 feet in breadth including goods overhanging will be allowed to enter or pass along the Balighye drain from Chowmook to Tikrapara and the branch drain from Chowmook to the Balighye Road bridge.

14. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or despatch boats or passenger or cargo-boats in tow of steam-vessels; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

15. Mooring.—All vessels stopping [illegible] must be moored head and stern to the bank of the channel or wherever specially ordered.

Only one line of vessels shall be allowed to pass along a canal or to make fast along and in a line with the canal banks or along and in a line with the banks of the river entrance to the locks, and no vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of vessels so secured, without the permission of a navigation officer. No vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation.

16. Rule of the Road.—When under sail, vessels are to keep in the centre of the channel. When being tracked, vessels are, wherever practicable, to keep to starboard or right side of the channel. Vessels meeting in a canal, except when being tracked, must keep to their right when passing, and when one vessel overtakes another, the former must pass on the left. When vessels, one of which is sailing and the other steaming, meet in a canal, the sailing vessel must keep to the leeward. A steamer passing any vessel is bound to go at a speed not greater than half speed.

17. Lights and signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in a line of navigation, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light, in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the white light prescribed above.

Where signals are used, no vessel shall enter or attempt to enter the entrance channel of a lock when a red flag or red light is displayed at the end of the lock next her, "but shall wait until the signal intimating 'all clear' is displayed." Steam-vessels approaching a lock shall whistle when a mile distant, and shall continue to whistle at intervals, until the signal intimating that the lock is open or closed is displayed, or, if no signals are used, until arrival.

18. Crews and Attendants.—Every vessel when stationary shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

19. Fittings.—Vessels must have their masts, high awnings, and funnels fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and no bamboos or poles shall be erected on or by vessels when at anchor.

20. Conduct of navigation.—Vessels are prohibited from making fast to any portion of the lock-gates or gearing, and steamers are prohibited from making fast the tow-lines of their boats until the latter are clear of the locks. [illegible]ers are prohibited from lashing boats or barges alongside while pr[illegible]ocks. Towing ropes of a greater length than 50 feet are not to be used in a canal. [illegible] throwing of cinders into any canal is prohibited; they are to be deposited on the banks.

21. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken vessels, the Supervisor of the line of navigation or of a part of it may call upon the person in charge of the vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Supervisor, this officer may, under the provisions of section 14 of the Act, undertake the removal of the obstruction himself at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in section 9 of the "Canals Act, 1864".

In the case of emergency and in the temporary absence of the Supervisor from the place where the obstruction occurred any navigation officer present must at once report the matter to the Supervisor.

No. 5.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of the previous notification on the subject, No. 58, dated the 17th February 1885, the Governor i[illegible] Council is pleased to make the following rules for the lines of navigation [illegible] as the Eastern Canal Route and the Outer Boat Routes, as defined [illegible] 230, dated the 23rd July 1895, and for the navigable [illegible]hannels from Khulna [illegible] Khulna to Magura in district Jessore, as defined in Notification No. 7, dated the 1st September 1914.

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES.

1. Wherever mooring posts have been put up by the Supervisor, vessels must be made fast by the bow and stern along the banks to such posts, or in such other manner as the Supervisor may direct.

2. As the water falls, the bow and stern ropes must be slackened, and boats gradually pushed towards the centre of the canal; when the flood comes in these two ropes must be gradually hauled in, and the boat kept as close to the bank as possible.

3. In portions of the canals where only one towing-path exists, vessels must be moored on the off-side, and the towing-path side must always be kept clear.

4. Only one boat is allowed to make fast along and in line with the canal banks, and no boat is to be made fast or be placed outside of boats so secured without the special permission of the Supervisor. No boat or raft is to be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other boats, or obstruct the passage of other boats; but all boats are to be placed in such places and in such a manner as the Supervisor or Inspector may at any time direct.

5. The Supervisor may, by notification, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggees in any part of the canals or banks, and in such part no anchors must be dropped or bamboos or luggees put up.

6. Boats whilst loading or unloading in the canals are allowed to use ladders, but the ladders must be gradually taken in as the water rises.

7. In order to avoid collision and confusion, boats waiting for a favourable tide at the junction of two or more rivers must be moored at a distance of not less than 1,000 feet from the point of junction.

8. No person is allowed to place any obstruction on the canal banks, roads, drains or bridges (when such are on canal land) so as to impede a free passage along them, or cause injury to them, or to commit a nuisance, or deposit filth of any sort on the banks, bridges or roads or in the canals.

9. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the canals.

10. In every case of wreck caused by negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates must give all possible assistance in removing the same.

11. A notice must be affixed on a wreck when recovered, calling on those concerned to pay to the Supervisor all tolls which may be due, or any fine which may have been adjudged, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery or removal of the wreck; and intimating that if the sum be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold; the proceeds of the sale being dealt with as directed in section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864.

12. Every Canal officer is authorized to remove any vessel, anchor, pole or other thing which he may find in a position which is in contravention of these rules, and to deal with it in such a manner as may be necessary to give effect to the rules.

13. Whenever any laden vessel is seized by a Canal Officer, it is the duty of the Supervisor to give immediate notice of the same to the owner or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the same.

14. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boat seized under the said Act, he must notify the seizure by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers. Such notice shall require the owner to cause the immediate removal of the cargo, and to pay any necessary expenses incurred in providing for its proper custody and storage.

15. The Supervisor may incur whatever expense [illegible] may think necessary for the proper custody and storage [illegible] any vessel seized under the Act, and if the cargo be not removed within ten days from the date of seizure, he may sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving ten days' notice of the same by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers.

16. The money realized at such a sale is to be applied, in the first instance, to defray any expenditure that may have been incurred by the Supervisor on account of the cargo sold and the balance, if any, is to be held in deposit to be paid to the owner of the said cargo on his applying for the same.

17. No officer of any description or rank employed on the canal shall, either directly or indirectly, bid for or purchase any articles sold under these rules or under the provisions of the Act.

18. Any person (other than the Supervisor or his subordinates) who, either personally, or by his servant, infringes any of these rules, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for any one infringement, and to a fine not exceeding five rupees a day for any continued infringement.

NOTICE.

License to extract and purchase timber from the North and Middle Andaman Islands.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Government of India are prepared to consider tenders for a license to extract and purchase padauk and other timbers from—

(i) The North Andaman with Interview, Bennett, and all other Islands north of Austin Strait.

(ii) The Middle Andaman excepting that portion to the west of Yoljig and south of the main line cleared from the junction of the Chara lung-ta and Bom-lung-ta streams westwards to Mount Oldham and on to the sea.

2. Sites for depôts, sawmills, residences, and other purposes essential to the carrying out of the terms of the license will be made available at Pott Cornwallis, Stewart Sound, and Long Island at the discretion of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

3. Tenders may be submitted for either or both of the above areas. The license will be for 20 years from the 1st January 1916, or such later date within six months of the acceptance of the tender as may be agreed upon, with the option of renewal for another 20 years on terms to be notified by the Government of India hereafter ; but those persons whose tenders have been accepted will be permitted to clear land for buildings, and other purposes connected with the license, and to start the erection of such buildings, as from the date on which the agreement is signed and the security money deposited.

4. The fellings will be regulated by the working plans sanctioned or to be sanctioned, by the Government of India. The two areas, mentioned in paragraph 1 above will each be divided into three sub-periodic blocks. Felling and extraction of timber and the payment of royalty thereon must be completed in sub-periodic block I by the end of the first seven years of the license, work being similarly completed in sub-periodic blocks II and III by the end of the 11th and 15th years, respectively. Throughout the period of the agreement the Secretary of State for India in Council will retain the right to extract from the licensed areas timber required for local (other than trade purposes) and for local public works, and in any sub-periodic block on the expiry of the period allotted for the working thereof to issue licenses or otherwise provide for the felling, extraction, and disposal of timber which the licensees have omitted or are not bound to extract.

5. The padauk trees to be felled will be marked previously by the Forest Department, and none but marked trees shall be felled. The first sub-periodic block in each area will be located in the neighbourhood of Stewart Sound.

6. The minimum annual outturn of padauk timber for the first fourteen years after which the present working plan will be revised, is estimated as follows, but the accuracy of the estimate is not guaranteed :—

(i) From the North Andaman including Interview and Bennett Islands—

1,200 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
1,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

2,100 tons of first-class logs,
1,400 tons of second-class logs,
2,800 tons of third-class logs,

(ii) From the Middle Andaman—

2,400 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
2,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

4,200 tons of first-class logs,
2,800 tons of second-class logs,
4,000 tons of third-class logs.

The outturn for the last six years of the license will be determined by working plans to be drawn up hereafter.

7. In addition the licensees will be permitted to cut, subject to previous marking, should this in the opinion of the Forest Officer be considered desirable, and to such limits as to area and number as may be imposed by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands from time to time, other species as follows :—

Gurjan over 8 ft. in girth, didu and pyinma over 7½ ft. in girth, and koko, black chuglam, white chulgam, white bambwe. red bambwe, and taungpein over 6 ft. in girth.

8. The timber will, in all cases, be measured in the round log either at the stump or at collecting depôts as may be found convenient by the Forest Department. All felled timber will be held to be at the risk of the licensees and to be liable to the payment of royalty which must be paid before removal from the islands or conversion in a sawmill.

9. For the first three years of the license royalty will be payable at the rates agreed on and on the amount of timber felled ; but thereafter minima annual royalties will be payable as follows :—

(i) for the North Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(ii) for the Middle Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(iii) in case of a combined license for both islands, Rs. 2,00,000 per annum.

10. Except with the special permission of the Divisional Forest Officer all padauk trees, sound or unsound, which have been marked by the forest officers as in their opinion worth conversion, must be felled and royalty paid on them.

11. Should the licensees desire to exploit any form of minor produce or any timber other than those species mentioned above, they may be permitted to do so on terms to be settled hereafter by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

12. The licensees will be subject to such restrictions as the Government of India may prescribe to prevent communication between their employés and the convict population in the Andamans.

13. Subject to the general control of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands the cultivation of field crops solely for the support of the labour force will be permitted free of taxation.

14. Facilities will be provided at Stewart Sound for wireless telegraphy, and as far as may be possible for a weekly steamer or launch connection for postal purposes between this place and Port Blair.

15. Such padauk timber as may be available from departmental working in the areas not included in the first paragraph of this notice or in sub-periodic blocks in which felling and extraction of timber has been completed by the licensees in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 above and as may not be required for local consumption in the islands or for issue to State-worked railways or other Government departments in India and Burma, will be sold either by public auction or by public tender, provided that the quantity to be so sold annually, commencing from the first of January 1917, shall not exceed 500 tons of squares and 1,000 tons of scantlings. There will be no limit to the quantity of timber other than padauk which may be extracted from the areas under reference, and no restriction as to its disposal.

16. The Inspector-General of Forests, Simla, will answer calls for further information.

17. Tenders must be submitted on forms to be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, and must be accompanied by a receipt for the payment into any Government Treasury of a sum of Rs. 1,500 in cash or in Government securities. This deposit will be returned to unsuccessful tenderers, but in the case of persons whose tenders have been accepted will be subject to forfeiture in the event of their failure to execute within the time specified the agreement referred to below.

18. All persons whose tenders have been accepted will be required to execute an agreement in a form approved by the Government of India, copies of which can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla. This agreement must be signed within three months of the acceptance of the tender.

19. Tenders, marked "Tender for Andamans Timber License", should be submitted so as to reach the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla, on or before the 1st September 1915. The Government of India do not undertake to accept the highest or any tender either for padauk or for other timbers, or to assign any reasons for the refusal or acceptance of any tender.

20. Without the written sanction of the Government of India no transfer, assignment or sub-letting of their license by the licensees will be valid.

Secretary to the Government of India,
Department of Revenue and Agriculture.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911;

And whereas the sanction of the Governor General has been obtained, under section 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, to section 8 of this Act which affects an Act passed by the Governor General of India in Council; 55 & 56 Vict., c. 14.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act, 1915.

The Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act.
(Sections 2, 3.)

Amendment of section 2 of Ben. Act V of 1911.

2. In section 2 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911 (hereinafter called the said Act),— Ben. Act of 1911.

(a) after clause (a), the following definition shall be inserted, namely :—

"(aa) 'building line' means a line (in rear of the street alignment) up to which the main wall of a building abutting on a projected public street may lawfully extend";

(b) at the end of clause (f), the words and figures "but does not include a projected public street referred to in section 63" shall be added; and

(c) in clause (n), the expression "building line" and the figure and brackets "(3)" shall be repealed.

New section substituted for section 63.

3. For section 63 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"63. (1) The Board may from time to time in regard to any area—

Projected public streets.

(a) within the Calcutta Municipality, or

(b) in the neighbourhood of the said Municipality, make plans of proposed public streets showing the direction of such streets, the street alignment and building line (if any), on each side of them, their intended width and such other details as may appear desirable.

(2) When a plan of a proposed public street has been made under sub-section (1), the Board shall prepare a notice stating—

(a) the fact that such plan has been made,

(b) particulars of the land (shown in such plan) through which the proposed public street will pass,

(c) the place at which the said plan and particulars may be seen at reasonable hours, and

(d) the period (which shall be not less than sixty days) within which objections to the said plan may be submitted to the Board; and the Board shall thereupon—

(i) cause the said notice to be published weekly for two consecutive weeks in the Calcutta Gazette and in local newspapers, and in such other manner as the Board may direct, and

(ii) forward a copy of the said notice to any person whose name appears in the municipal assessment book as being primarily liable to pay the owner's share of the consolidated rate, or the rate on the annual value of holdings, as the case may be, in respect of any land included within the proposed public street, and

The Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act.

(Section 3.)

(iii) forward a copy of the said notice and of the plan to which it relates to the Chairman of the Corporation and, if any area in the neighbourhood of the Calcutta Municipality is included in such plan, to the Chairman of the local authority administering any portion of such area, and

(iv) cause copies of the said notice and plan to be delivered to any applicant on payment of such fee as may be prescribed by rule made under section 138.

(3) On or after a date (not being less than sixty days from the date of the first publication of the notice) to be appointed by the Board in this behalf, the Board shall consider—

(a) all objections in writing received from any person affected by the proposed public street contemplated by such plan, and

(b) any representation in regard to such street made to the Board by the Corporation or the aforesaid local authority; and the Board may thereupon either withdraw the plan or apply to the Local Government for sanction thereto with such modifications (if any) as the Board may consider necessary.

(4) If the Board apply for sanction as provided in sub-section (3), they shall simultaneously forward to the Local Government a full statement of all objections and representations made to them under the said sub-section.

(5) When a plan of a proposed public street has been submitted to the Local Government under sub-section (3), the Board shall cause notice of the fact to be published for two consecutive weeks in the Calcutta Gazette and in local newspapers.

(6) The Local Government may sanction, either with or without modification, or may refuse to sanction, any plan of a proposed public street submitted to it under sub-section (3).

(7) Whenever the Local Government sanctions a plan of a proposed public street, it shall announce the fact by notification, and the publication of such notification shall be conclusive evidence that the plan has been duly made and sanctioned; and the proposed public street to which such notification refers shall be deemed to be a projected public street, and shall be so deemed until—

(a) such street has been declared, under section 65 or section 66, as the case may be, to be a public street, or

(b) the said notification has been cancelled by another notification:

Provided that such cancellation shall not affect the validity of any action taken by the Board in pursuance of the said notification.

The Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act.

(Section 3.)

(8) If any person desires to erect, re-erect or add to any wall (exceeding ten feet in height) or building which falls within the street alignment or building line of a projected public street shown in any plan sanctioned by the Local Government under this section, he shall submit an application in writing to the Chairman for permission so to do:

Provided as follows:—

(i) no such application shall be necessary for permission to erect or re-erect, between a building line and the street alignment,—

(a) a porch or balcony, or,

(b) along not more than one-third of the frontage, an outhouse not exceeding fifteen feet in height;

(ii) nothing in this sub-section shall relieve any person from the liability to obtain such sanction as it may be necessary to obtain under any law for the time being in force from any local authority.

(9) The Chairman shall in no case refuse an application submitted under sub-section (8) if the applicant executes an agreement binding himself and his successors in interest to remove, without compensation, any wall or building to which that application relates, in the event of the Board—

(a) deciding (at any time after an improvement scheme has been sanctioned under section 48 for an area within which such building or wall is situate) that the said wall or building, or any portion thereof, ought to be removed, and

(b) calling upon the owner for the time being, by written notice, to remove the same within a time (not being less than sixty days from the date of the service of the notice) to be specified in the said notice.

(10) If the Chairman does not, within thirty days from the receipt of an application submitted under sub-section (8), grant or refuse the permission applied for thereunder, such permission shall be deemed to have been granted.

(11) If the Chairman refuses permission to any person to erect, re-erect or add to any wall or building as aforesaid which falls—

(i) within the street alignment, or

(ii) between the street alignment and the building line of a projected public street, the owner of the land on which it was sought to erect, re-erect or add to such wall or building, may call upon the Board, at any time within three months from the date of such refusal, either—

(a) to pay him compensation for any damage sustained by him in consequence of such refusal, or

The Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act.

(Sections 4-6.)

(b) to acquire so much of his land as falls within the street alignment, or between the street alignment and the building line, as the case may be ;

and the Board shall thereupon—

in case (a), make full compensation to the said owner for any damage which he may be found to have sustained in consequence of such refusal, and in case (b), forthwith take steps to acquire the said land :

Provided that, in the case of such land as falls within the street alignment only, it shall be optional with the Board to acquire the same in lieu of paying compensation therefor.

(12) An appeal shall lie to the Board from any refusal by the Chairman to grant an application under this section."

Amendment of section 138.

4. At the end of clause (e) of section 138 of the said Act, the words and figures "or clause (iv) of sub-section (2) of section 63" shall be added.

Amendment of section 171

5. In section 171 of the said Act, for the words "If any person, without the permission of the Board, erects, re-erects, adds to, or alters any building or wall so as to make the same fall within the street alignment or building line shown in any plan finally adopted by the Board under section 63", the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"If any person, without the permission of the Chairman required by section 63, sub-section (8), erects, re-erects or adds to any wall (exceeding ten feet in height) or building which falls within the street alignment or building line of a projected public street shown in any plan sanctioned by the Local Government under the said section."

New section 171A

6. After section 171 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Penalty for failure to remove wall or building in respect of which agreement has been executed.

"171A. If the owner for the time being of any wall or building in respect of which an agreement has been executed as provided in section 63, sub-section (9), fails—

(a) to remove such wall or building, or any specified portion thereof, when so required by notice issued under that sub-section, or,

(b) within fifteen days from the receipt of such notice, to authorize the Chairman, by permission in writing, to remove the said wall, building or portion,

he shall be punishable—

(i) with fine which may extend, in the case of a masonry wall or building, to one hundred rupees, and, in the case of a hut, to twenty rupees ; and

The Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act.

(Sections 7-9.)

(ii) with further fine which may extend, in the case of a masonry wall or building, to ten rupees, and, in the case of a hut, to five rupees, for each day after the first during which the failure continues."

Repeal of section 172

7. Section 172 of the said Act is hereby repealed.

New section 174A.

8. After section 174 of the said Act the following heading and section shall be inserted, namely:—

"Recovery of expenses.

Removal of wall or building and recovery of expenses.

174A. When a written notice, issued under section 63, sub-section (9), for the removal of a wall or building, or any portion thereof, is not complied with by the owner thereof for the time being as provided in section 171A, the Chairman may proceed to remove such wall, building or portion, and the expenses incurred in effecting such removal shall be recoverable by sale of the materials or other things removed."

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

CAUTION WHEN APPROACHING BRITISH PORTS.

No. 73 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 101 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 1 of 1915 ; (This Office No. 45 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise. Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

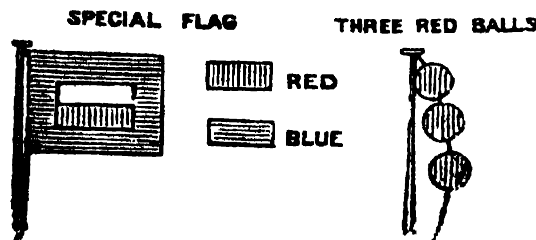
PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.



(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination Anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(9) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(10) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(11) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

CO-ORDINATION OF THE PAY AND ALLOWANCES OF THE VETERINARY INSPECTORS AND VETERINARY ASSISTANTS IN THE EASTERN AND WESTERN PARTS OF THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

AGRICULTURE.

CALCUTTA, THE 9TH APRIL 1915.

RESOLUTION—No. 3775.

SINCE the reconstitution of the Province on the 1st April 1912, the question of co-ordinating the different rates of pay and allowances of the Veterinary Assistants, obtaining in the two parts of the Presidency, has engaged the attention of Government. After careful consideration, the Governor in Council is pleased to sanction, with effect from the 1st March 1915, the revised scales of pay and allowances, detailed in the annexed statement, for all the Veterinary Assistants employed in this Presidency.

2. The existing pay of Veterinary Assistants in the two Western Bengal Divisions is Rs. 30—$\frac{2}{3}$—50 and in the three Eastern Bengal Divisions Rs. 30—$\frac{10}{5}$—70. His Excellency in Council has decided to adopt the more liberal rates prevailing in the three Eastern Bengal Divisions. As regards the local and travelling allowances, the existing rates will continue to be in force except that in the 24-Parganas, Khulna and Jessore, where travelling and living are expensive, the more liberal rates prevailing in Eastern Bengal will apply. In Western Bengal, the reserve Veterinary Assistants intended to fill temporary leave vacancies, whose number is fixed at 10 per cent. of the total number of appointments in the cadre of the Provincial and Subordinate staffs, draw travelling allowance according to the Civil Service Regulations when on duty in the mufassal but no personal allowance. In Eastern Bengal they draw a personal allowance of Rs. 10 when on duty in the mufassal and travelling allowance according to the Civil Service Regulations. His Excellency in Council is pleased to extend the Eastern Bengal system to the whole Presidency.

3. The services of the Veterinary Assistants in Eastern Bengal were provincialised with effect from the 13th October 1907 and in Western Bengal from the 1st April 1911. In neither case were the services rendered by these Assistants under different local bodies prior to their inclusion in the provincialised cadre taken into consideration for increment of pay. His Excellency in Council is now pleased to direct that the past services rendered under local bodies by the Veterinary Assistants of this Presidency should count towards increments of pay, so that each officer will now draw the pay to which he would have been entitled had he commenced his service on the incremental rate of pay now sanctioned for him. Officers who entered the service before it was provincialised will also be allowed to draw the arrear increments due to them, calculated on the old scales of pay in each case. The question of exempting the officers of the Eastern Bengal Divisions from the operation of article 478(a) of the Civil Service Regulations relating to the reduction of pension is under the consideration of Government.

4. The Inspectors in Western Bengal are arranged in seven grades ranging from Rs. 70 to Rs. 150. In Eastern Bengal the pay of the Inspectors is Rs. 100—5—175. As the service is small, His Excellency in Council considers a time-scale of pay more suitable than a graded system of promotion, and has therefore decided that the time-scale pay of Rs. 100—5—175 obtaining in the Eastern Bengal districts should be introduced throughout the Presidency, with effect from the 1st March 1915. The Chief Inspector under the Glanders and Farcy Act and the Prosecuting Inspector under the Cruelty to Animals Act will continue to draw a local allowance of Rs. 50 each per mensem.

5. The question of the apportionment between Government and local bodies of the cost of the pay and allowances of the District Veterinary Assistants has also been considered. The principle laid down in the Bengal Government Resolution No. 1156-T.R. of the 2nd July 1910, was that in the case of Itinerant Veterinary Assistants, half the cost of their pay and allowances other than leave allowances, should be borne by the District Boards, and that in the case of a Veterinary Dispensary with a Veterinary Assistant at a head-quarters station, maintained and paid for jointly by a District Board and a municipality, five-sixths of the annual maintenance charges should be borne by those bodies. In Eastern Bengal it was laid down in the Resolution No. 473-E. of the 26th February 1909 that the local bodies should bear two-thirds of the average charges of the salary, including local allowance, leave allowances and pension contributions of the officers employed and also the entire charges for house accommodation and travelling allowance. In view of the transfer of the Public Works cess to the District Boards, His Excellency in Council considers it reasonable that the Eastern Bengal rule should be introduced throughout the Presidency. The net average cost on account of pay, leave allowances, etc., of a Stationary Veterinary Assistant on the Eastern Bengal scale is Rs. 67. In the case of an Itinerant Veterinary Assistant, it is about Rs. 78. The Governor in Council accordingly directs that the contributions payable by local bodies should be levied at the rate of Rs. 45 for each Stationary Veterinary Assistant and Rs. 52 for each Itinerant Veterinary Assistant employed throughout the Presidency with effect from the 1st March 1915.

Order.—Ordered that the above resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that copies of this be forwarded to the Director of Agriculture, Bengal, and the Accountant-General of Bengal, for information and guidance, and to all Commissioners of Divisions, for communication to District Officers, and (through them) to all District Boards and Municipalities. Also that copies be forwarded to the Financial and the Municipal Departments of this Government.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Special Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1914-15.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1912-13, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. This ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1912-13 averaged (a) 37·7 per cent. and (b) 17·4 per cent. respectively.]

Explanatory.—This forecast which shows the final acreage and yield of the wheat crop in Bengal has been published as a special case under the orders of the Government of India, Department of Revenue and Agriculture, in their Circular No. 4-C., dated the 25th February 1915.

Character of the season.—In the second forecast published on the 25th February last the weather conditions were reported not to have been favourable throughout the season excepting in January when light but timely showers had improved the situation to some extent. There was general rainfall in February also, but excepting in the Northern Bengal districts, it was everywhere defective. The estimates of outturn in the case of Burdwan, Darjeeling and Malda have, however, been slightly increased in this forecast as a result of the rainfall in February, while that of Pabna has been reduced from 80 to 50 per cent. as the result of further enquiry by the Collector.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the crop this year is estimated at 134,100 acres against 144,100 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn in the important wheat-growing districts is as follows:—Nadia 42 per cent.; Murshidabad 67 per cent.; Malda 60 per cent.; Pabna 50 per cent. According to the estimate of the District Officers the provincial outturn works out to 62 per cent. against 92 per cent. of the normal last year. Taking the normal yield to be 10½ maunds per acre, the total yield for the province is estimated to be 32,100 tons against 51,100 tons last year.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 12th April 1915.

Summary.—During the week under report light to moderate rain fell in most districts of Eastern Bengal and in a few parts of Western Bengal. More rain is wanted for the cultivation and sowing of the bhadoi crops. The standing crops also are suffering in places on account of insufficient rainfall. A severe hailstorm has been reported from Jalpaiguri and Dacca. The standing crops at both places have been damaged to some extent. Cattle-disease is reported from fifteen districts. The average price of common rice for the Province has had a slight tendency to rise as compared with that of the previous week.

Our position being somewhat critical, I ordered "Fearless" to attack, and the First Flotilla to attack with torpedoes, which they proceeded to do with great spirit. The Cruiser at once turned away, disappeared in the haze and evaded the attack.

About 10 minutes later the same Cruiser appeared on our starboard quarter. Opened fire on her with both 6-inch guns; "Fearless" also engaged her, and one Division of Destroyers attacked her with torpedoes without success.

The state of affairs and our position was then reported to the Admiral Commanding Battle Cruiser Squadron.

We received a very severe and almost accurate fire from this Cruiser; salvo after salvo was falling between 10 and 30 yards short, but not a single shell struck; two torpedoes were also fired at us, being well directed, but short.

The Cruiser was badly damaged by "Arethusa's" 6-inch guns and a splendidly directed fire from "Fearless," and she shortly afterwards turned away in the direction of Heligoland.

Proceeded, and four minutes later sighted the three-funnelled Cruiser "Mainz." She endured a heavy fire from "Arethusa" and "Fearless" and many Destroyers. After an action of approximately 25 minutes she was seen to be sinking by the head, her engines stopped, besides being on fire.

At this moment, the Light Cruiser Squadron appeared, and they very speedily reduced the "Mainz" to a condition which must have been indescribable.

I then recalled "Fearless" and the Destroyers, and ordered cease fire.

We then exchanged broadsides with a large four-funnelled Cruiser on the starboard quarter at long range, without visible effect.

The Battle Cruiser Squadron now arrived, and I pointed out this Cruiser to the Admiral Commanding, and was shortly afterwards informed by him that the Cruiser in question had been sunk and another set on fire.

The weather during the day was fine, sea calm, but visibility poor, not more than 3 miles at any time when the various actions were taking place, and was such that ranging and spotting were rendered difficult.

I then proceeded with 14 Destroyers of the Third Flotilla and 9 of the First Flotilla.

"Arethusa's" speed was about 6 knots until 7 P.M., when it was impossible to proceed any further, and fires were drawn in all boilers except two, and assistance called for.

At 9-30 P.M., Captain Wilmot S. Nicholson, of the "Hogue," took my ship in tow in a most seamanlike manner, and, observing that the night was pitch dark and the only lights showing were two small hand lanterns, I consider his action was one which deserves special notice from Their Lordships.

I would also specially recommend Lieutenant-Commander Arthur P. N. Thorowgood, of "Arethusa," for the able manner he prepared the ship for being towed in the dark.

H.M. ship under my command was then towed to the Nore, arriving at 5 P.M. on the 29th August. Steam was then available for slow speed, and the ship was able to proceed to Chatham under her own steam.

I beg again to call attention to the services rendered by Captain W. F. Blunt, of H.M.S. "Fearless," and the Commanding Officers of the Destroyers of the First and Third Flotillas, whose gallant attacks on the German Cruisers at critical moments undoubtedly saved "Arethusa" from more severe punishment and possible capture.

I cannot adequately express my satisfaction and pride at the spirit and ardour of my Officers and Ship's Company, who carried out their orders with the greatest alacrity under the most trying conditions specially in view of the fact that the ship, newly built, had not been 48 hours out of the Dockyard before she was in action.

It is difficult to specially pick out individuals, but the following came under my special observation :—

H. M. S. "Arethusa".

Lieutenant-Commander Arthur P. N. Thorowgood, First Lieutenant, and in charge of the After Control.

Lieutenant-Commander Earnest K. Arbuthnot (G), in charge of the Fore Control.

Sub-Lieutenant Clive A. Robinson, who worked the range finder throughout the entire action with extraordinary coolness.

Assistant Paymaster Kenneth E. Badcock, my Secretary, who attended me on the bridge throughout the entire action.

Mr. James D. Godfrey, Gunner (T), who was in charge of the torpedo tubes.

The following men were specially noted :—

Armourer Arthur F. Hayes, O. N. 342026 (Ch.).

Second Sick Berth Stewart George Trolley, O. N. M. 296 (Ch.).

Chief Yeoman of Signals, Albert Fox, O. N. 194656 (Po.), on fore-bridge during entire action.

Chief Petty Officer, Frederick W. Wrench, O. N. 158630 (Ch.) (for ready resource in extinguishing fire caused by explosion of cordite).

Private Thomas Millington, R. M. L. I., No. Ch. 17417.

Private William J. Beirne, R. M. L. I., No. Ch. 13540.

First Writer, Albert W. Stone, O. N. 346080 (Po.).

I also beg to record the services rendered by the following Officers and Men of H. M. Ships under my orders :—

H.M.S. "Fearless".

Mr. Robert M. Taylor, Gunner, for coolness in action under heavy fire.

The following Officers also displayed great resource and energy in effecting repairs to "Fearless" after her return to harbour, and they were ably seconded by the whole of their staffs :—

Engineer Lieutenant-Commander Charles de F. Messervy.

Mr. William Morrissey, Carpenter.

H.M.S. "Goshawk".

Commander The Hon. Herbert Meade, who took his Division into action with great coolness and nerve, and was instrumental in sinking the German Destroyer "V. 187", and, with the boats of his Division, saved the survivors in a most chivalrous manner.

H.M.S. "Ferret".

Commander Geoffrey Mackworth, who, with his Division, most gallantly seconded Commander Meade, of "Goshawk".

H.M.S. "Laertes".

Lieutenant-Commander Malcolm L. Goldsmith, whose ship was seriously damaged, taken in tow, and towed out of action by "Fearless".

Engineer Lieutenant-Commander Alexander Hill, for repairing steering gear and engines under fire.

Sub-Lieutenant George H. Faulkner, who continued to fight his gun after being wounded.

Mr. Charles Powell, Acting Boatswain, O.N. 209388, who was gunlayer of the centre gun, which made many hits. He behaved very coolly, and set a good example when getting in tow and clearing away the wreckage after the action.

Edward Naylor, Petty Officer Torpedo Gunner's Mate, O.N. 189136, who fired a torpedo which the Commanding Officer of "Laertes" reports undoubtedly hit the "Mainz," and so helped materially to put her out of action.

Stephen Pritchard, Stoker Petty Officer, O.N. 285152, who very gallantly dived into the cabin flat immediately after a shell had exploded there, and worked a fire hose.

Frederick Pierce, Stoker Petty Officer, O.N. 307943, who was on watch in the engine room and behaved with conspicuous coolnees and resource when a shell exploded in No. 2 boiler.

H.M.S. "Laurel."

Commander Frank F. Rose, who most ably commanded his vessel throughout the early part of the action, and after having been wounded in both legs, remained on the bridge until 6 P.M., displaying great devotion to duty.

Lieutenant Charles R. Peplo, First Lieutenant, who took command after Commander Rose was wounded, and continued the action till its close, bringing his Destroyer out in an able and gallant manner under most trying conditions.

Engineer Lieutenant-Commander Edward H. T. Meesson, who behaved with great coolness during the action, and steamed the ship out of action, although she had been very severely damaged by explosion of her own lyddite, by which the after funnel was nearly demolished. He subsequently assisted to carry out repairs to the vessel.

Sam Palmer, Leading Seaman (G. L. 2) O. N. 179529, who continued to fight his gun until the end of the action, although severely wounded in the leg.

Albert Edmund Sellens, Able Seaman (L. T. O.), O. N. 217245, who was stationed at the fore torpedo tubes; he remained at his post throughout the entire action, although wounded in the arm, and then rendered first aid in a very able manner before being attended to himself.

George H. Sturdy, Chief Stoker, O. N. 285547, and

Alfred Britton, Stoker Petty Officer, O. N. 289893 who both showed great coolness in putting out a fire near the centre gun after an explosion had occurred there; several lyddite shells were lying in the immediate vicinity.

William R. Boiston, Engine Room Artificer, 3rd class, O. N. M. 1369, who showed great ability and coolness in taking charge of the after boiler room during the action, when an explosion blew in the after funnel and a shell carried away pipes and seriously damaged the main steam pipe.

William H. Gorst, Stoker Petty Officer, O. N. 305616.

Edward Crane, Stoker Petty Officer, O. N. 307275

Harry Wilfred Hawkes, Stoker 1st class, O. N. K. 12086.

John W. Bateman, Stoker 1st class, O. N. K. 12100.

These men were stationed in the after boiler room and conducted themselves with great coolness during the action, when an explosion blew in the after funnel, and shell carried away pipes and seriously damaged the main steam pipe.

H.M.S. "Liberty".

The late Lieutenant-Commander Nigel K. W. Barttelot commanded the "Liberty" with great skill and gallantry throughout the action. He was a most promising and able Officer, and I consider his death is a great loss to the Navy.

Engineer Lieutenant-Commander Frank A. Butler, who showed much resource in effecting repairs during the action.

Lieutenant Henry E. Horan, First Lieutenant, who took command after the death of Lieutenant-Commander Barttelot, and brought his ship out of action in an extremely able and gallant manner under most trying conditions.

Mr. Harry Morgan, Gunner (T), who carried out his duties with exceptional coolness under fire.

Chief Petty Officer James Samuel Beadle, O. N. 171735, who remained at his post at the wheel for over an hour after being wounded in the kidneys.

John Galvin, Stoker Petty Officer, O. N. 279946, who took entire charge, under the Enigneer Officer, of the party who stopped leaks, and accomplished his task although working up to his chest in water.

H.M.S. "Laforey."

Mr. Ernest Roper, Chief Gunner, who carried out his duties with exceptional coolness under fire.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

R. Y. TYRWHITT,

Commodore (T).

H.M.S. "Maidstone,"

17th October, 1914.

Sir,—In compliance with Thier Lordships' directions, I have the honour to report as follows upon the services performed by Submarines since the commencement of hostilities :—

Three hours after the outbreak of war, Submarines "E. 6" (Lieutenant-Commander Cecil P. Talbot), and "E. 8' (Lieutenant-Commander Francis H. H. Goodhart), proceeded unaccompanied to carry out a reconnaissance in the Heligoland Bight. These two vessels returned with useful information, and had the privilege of being the pioneers on a service which is attended by some risk.

During the transportation of the Expeditionary Force the "Lurcher" and "Firedrake" and all the Submarines of the Eighth Submarine Flotilla occupied positions from which they could have attacked the High Sea Fleet, had it emerged to dispute the passage of our transports. This patrol was maintained day and night without relief, until the personnel of our Army had been transported and all chance of effective interference had disappeared.

These Submarines have since been incessantly employed on the Enemy's Coast in the Heligoland Bight and elsewhere, and have obtained much valuable information regarding the composition and movement of his patrols. They have occupied his waters and reconnoitred his anchorages, and, while so engaged, have been subjected to skilful and well executed anti-submarine tactics; hunted for hours at a time by Torpedo Craft and attacked by gunfire and torpedoes.

At midnight on the 26th August, I embarked in the "Lurcher," and, in company with "Firedrake" and Submarines "D. 2," "D. 8," "E. 4," "E. 5," "E. 6," "E. 7," "E. 8," and "E. 9" of the Eighth Submarine Flotilla, proceeded to take part in the operations in the Heligoland Bight arranged for the 28th August. The Destroyers scouted for the Submarines until nightfall on the 27th, when the latter proceeded independently to take up various positions from which they could co-operate with the Destroyer Flotillas on the following morning.

At daylight on the 28th August the "Lurcher" and "Firedrake" searched the area, through which the Battle Cruisers were to advance, for hostile Submarines, and then proceeded towards Heligoland in the wake of Submarines "E.6," "E.7," "E.8," which were exposing themselves with the object of inducing the enemy to chase them to the westward.

On approaching Heligoland, the visibility, which had been very good to seaward reduced to 5,000 to 6,000 yards, and this added considerably to the anxieties and responsibilities of the Commanding Officers of Submarines, who handled their vessels with coolness and judgment in an area which was necessarily occupied by friends as well as foes.

Low visibility and calm sea are the most unfavourable conditions under which Submarines can operate, and no opportunity occurred of closing with the Enemy's Cruisers to within torpedo range.

Lieutenant-Commandar Ernest W. Leir, Commanding Submarine "E.4," witnessed the sinking of the German Torpedo Boat Destroyer "V.187" through his periscope, and observing a Cruiser of the "Stettin" class close, and open fire on the British Destroyers which had lowered their boats to pick up the survivors, he proceeded to attack the Cruiser, but she altered course before he could get within range. After covering the retirement of our Destroyers, which had had to abandon their boats, he returned to the latter, and embarked a Lieutenant and nine men of "Defender," who had been left behind. The boats also contained two Officers and eight men of "V. 187," who were unwounded, and eighteen men who were badly wounded. As he could not embark the latter, Lieutenant-Commander Leir left one of the Officer and six unwounded men to navigate the British boats to Heligoland. Before leaving he saw that they were provided with water, biscuits, and a compass. One German Officer and two men were made prisoners of war.

Lieutenant-Commander Leir's action in remaining on the surface in the vicinity of the enemy and in a visibility which would have placed his vessels within easy gun range of an enemy appearing out of the mist, was altogether admirable.

This enterprising and gallant Officer took part in the reconnaissance which supplied the information on which these operations were based, and I beg to submit his name, and that of Lieutenant-Commander Talbot, the Commanding Officer of "E.-6," who exercised patience, judgment and skill in a dangerous position, for the favourable consideration of their Lordships.

On the 13th September, "E9" (Lieutenant-Commander Max K. Horton), torpedoed and sank the German Light Cruiser "Hela" six miles South of Heligoland.

A number of Destroyers were evidently called to the scene after "E.-9" had delivered her attack, and these hunted her for several hours.

On the 14th September in accordance with his orders, Lieutenant-Commander Horton examined the outer anchorage of Heligoland, a service attended by considerable risk.

On the 25th September, Submarine "E.-6" (Lieutenant-Commander C. P. Talbot), while diving, fouled the moorings of a mine laid by the enemy. On rising to the serface she weighed the mine and sinker; the former was securely fixed between the hydroplane and its guard; fortunately, however, the horns of the mine were pointed outboard. The weight of the sinker made it a difficult and dangerous matter to lift the mine clear without exploding it. After half an hour's patient work this was effected by Lieutenant Frederick A. P. Williams-Freeman and able Seaman Ernest Randall Cremer, Official number 214235, and the released mine descended to its original depth.

On the 6th October, "E.-9" (Lieutenant-Commander Max K. Horton), when patrolling off the Ems, torpedoed and sank the Enemy's Destroyer, "S.126".

The Enemy's Torpedo Craft pursue tactics, which, in connection with their shallow draft, make them exceedingly difficult to attack with torpedo, and Lieutenant-Commander Horton's success was the result of much patient and skilful zeal. He is a most enterprising submarine officer, and I beg to submit his name for favourable consideration.

Lieutenant Charles M. S. Chapman, the Second in Command of "E. 9," is also deserving of credit.

Against an enemy whose capital vessels have never, Light Cruisers have seldom, emerged from their fortified harbours, opportunities of delivering Submarine attacks have necessarily been few, and on one occasion only prior to the 13th September, has one of our Submarines been within torpedo range of a Cruiser during day light hours.

During the exceptionally heavy westerly gales which prevailed between the 14th and 21st September, the position of the Submarines on a lee shore, within a few miles of the Enemy's coast was an unpleasant one.

The short steep seas which accompany westerly gales in the Heligoland Bight made it difficult to keep the conning tower hatches open. There was no rest to be obtained, and even when cruising at a depth of 60 feet, the Submarines were rolling considerably, and pumping—i.e., vertically moving about twenty feet.

I submit that it was creditable to the Commanding Officers that they should have maintained their stations under such conditions.

Service in the Heligoland Bight is keenly sought after by the Commanding Officers of the Eighth Submarine Flotilla, and they have all shown daring and enterprise in the execution of their duties. These Officers have unanimously expressed to me their admiration of the cool and gallant behaviour of the Officers and men under their command. They are, however, of the opinion that it is impossible to single out individuals when all have performed their duties so admirably, and in this I concur.

The following Submarines have been in contact with the enemy during these operations:—

"D. 1" (Lieutenant-Commander Archibald D. Cochrane).
"D. 2" (Lieutenant-Commander Arthur G. Jameson).
"D. 3" (Lieutenant-Commander Edward C. Boyle).
"D. 5" (Lieutenant-Commander Godfrey Herbert).
"E. 4" (Lieutenant-Commander Ernest W. Leir).
"E. 5" (Lieutenant-Commander Charles S. Benning).
"E. 6" (Lieutenant-Commander Cecil P. Talbot).
"E. 7" (Lieutenant-Commander Ferdinand E. B. Feilmann).
"E. 9" (Lieutenant-Commander Max K. Horton).

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient Servant,

Commodore (S).

MEMORANDUM BY THE DIRECTOR OF THE AIR DEPARTMENT, ADMIRALTY.

Commander Charles R. Samson, R. N., was in command of the Aeroplane and Armoured Motor Support of the Royal Naval Air Service (Naval Wing) at Dunkerque, between the dates 1st September to 5th October.

During this period several notable air reconnaisances were made, and skirmishes took place. Of these particular mention may be made of the Aeroplane attack on 4th September on 4 enemy cars and 40 men, on which occasion several bombs were dropped; and of the successful skirmishes at Cassel on 4th September, Savy on 12th September, Aniche on 22nd September, Orchies on 23rd September.

On the 22nd September, Flight Lieutenant C. H. Collet, of the Royal Naval Air Service (Naval Wing of the Royal Flying Corps), flying a Sopwith tractor biplane, made a long flight and a successful attack on the German Zeppelin Airship Shed at Düsseldorf.

Lieutenant Collet's feat is notable—gliding down from 6,000 feet, the last 1,500 feet in mist, he finally came in sight of the Airship Shed at a height of 400 feet, only a quarter of a mile away from it.

Flight Lieutenant Marix, acting under the orders of Squadron Commander Spenser Grey carried out a successful attack on the Düsseldorf airship shed during the afternoon of the 8th October. From a height of 600 feet he dropped two bombs on the shed, and flames 500 feet high were seen within thirty seconds. The roof of the shed was also observed to collapse.

Lieutenant Marix's machine was under heavy fire from rifles and mitrailleuse and was five times hit whilst making the attack.

Squadron Commander Spenser Grey, whilst in charge of a flight of naval aeroplanes at Antwerp, penetrated during a 3¾ hours' flight into the enemy's country as far as Cologne on the 8th October. He circled the city under fire at 600 feet and discharged his bombs on the military railway station. Considerable damage was done.

Admiralty.

21st October 1914.

Supplement, dated the 5th December, 1914, to the London Gazette, dated the 4th December, 1914.

Admiralty, 5th December 1914.

The following despatch has been received from Field-Marshal Sir J. D. P. French, G.C.B., G.C.V.O., K.C.M.G., covering a despatch from Major-General A. Paris, C.B., R.M.A., relating to the operations round Antwerp from the 3rd to the 9th October.

From Sir J. D. P. French, Field-Marshal, Commanding-in-Chief to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

In forwarding this report to the Army Council at the request of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, I have to state that, from a comprehensive review of all the circumstances, the force of Marines and Naval Brigades which assisted in the defence of Antwerp was handled by General Paris with great skill and boldness.

Although the results did not include the actual saving of the fortress, the action of the force under General Paris certainly delayed the enemy for a considerable time, and assisted the Belgian Army to be withdrawn in a condition to enable it to recognize and refit, and regain its value as a fighting force. The destruction of war material and ammunition—which but for the intervention of this force, would have proved of great value to the enemy—was thus able to be carried out.

The assistance which the Belgian Army has rendered throughout the subsequent course of the opera ions on the canal and the Yser river has been a valuable asset to the allied cause, and such help must be regarded as an outcome of the intervention of the General Paris's force. I am further of opinion that the moral effect produced on the minds of the Belgian Army by this necessarily desperate attempt to bring them succour, before it was too late, has been of great value to their use and efficiency as a fighting force.

J. D. P. FRENCH,
Field-Marshal,
Commanding-in-Chief.

From the Secretary of the Admiralty, to Field-Marshal Sir J. D P. French, Commanding-in-Chief. (Enclosure in No. 1.) Admiralty 2nd November, 1914.

Sir,

I am commanded by My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to transmit herewith a despatch from Major-General Paris, reporting the proceedings of the Division round Antwerp from the 3rd to 9th October, with a view to its being considered by you and forwarded to the Army Council with your survey of the operations as a whole.

I am, etc.,

W. GRAHAM GREENE.

From Major-General A. Paris, C. B., Commanding Royal Naval Division, to the Secretary of the Admiralty. (Sub-enclosure in No. 1.)

31st October, 1914.

Regarding the operations round Antwerp from 3rd to 9th October, I have the honour to report as follows :—

The Brigade (2,200 all ranks) reached Antwerp during the night 3rd-4th October, and early on the 4th occupied, with the 7th Belgian Regiment, the trenches facing Lierre, with advanced posts on the River Nethe, relieving some exhausted Belgian troops.

The outer forts on this front had already fallen and bombardment of the trenches was in progress. This increased in violence during the night and early morning of 5th October, when the advanced posts were driven in and the enemy effected a crossing of the river, which was not under fire from the trenches.

About midday the 7th Belgian Regiment was forced to retire, thus exposing my right flank. A vigorous counter-attack, gallantly led by Colonel Tierchon, 2nd Chasseurs, assisted by our aeroplanes, restored the position late in the afternoon.

Unfortunately, an attempt made by the Belgiam troops during the night (5th-6th October) to drive the enemy across the river failed, and resulted in the evacuation of practically the whole of the Belgian trenches.

The few troops now capable of another counter attack were unable to make any impression, and the position of the Marine Brigade became untenable.

The bombardment, too was very violent, but the retirement of the Brigade was well carried out, and soon after midday (6th October) an intermediate position, which had been hastily prepared, was occupied.

The two Naval Brigades reached Antwerp during the night, 5th-6th October. The 1st Brigade moved out in the afternoon of 5th to assist the withdrawal to the main 2nd Line of Defence.

The retirement was carried out during the night, 6th-7th October, without opposition, and the Naval Division occupied the intervals between the forts on the 2nd Line of defence.

The bombardment of the town, forts and trenches began at midnight, 7th-8th October, and continued with increasing intensity until the evacuation of the Fortress.

As the water-supply had been cut, no attempt could be made to subdue the flames, and soon 100 houses were burning. Fortunately, there was no wind, or the whole town and bridges must have been destroyed.

During the day (8th October) it appeared evident that the Belgian Army could not hold the forts any longer. About 5-30 P.M. I considered that if the Naval Division was to avoid disaster an immediate retirement under cover of darkness was necessary. General DeGuise, the Belgian Commandar, was in complete agreement. He was most chivalrous and gallant, insisting on giving orders that the roads and bridges were to be cleared for the passage of the British troops.

The retirement began about 7-30 P.M., and was carried out under very difficult conditions.

The enemy were reported in force (a division plus a Reserve Brigade) on our immediate line of retreat, rendering necessary a detour of 15 miles to the north.

All the roads were crowded with Belgian troops, refugees, herds of cattle, and all kinds of vehicles, making inter-communication a practical impossibility. Partly for these reasons, partly on account of fatigue, and partly from at present unexplained causes large numbers of the 1st Naval Brigade became détached, and I regret to say are either prisoners or interned in Holland.

Marching all night (8th to 9th October), one battalion of 1st Brigade the 2nd Brigade and Royal Marine Brigade, less one battalion, entrained at St. Gillies Waes and effected their retreat without further incident

The Battalion (Royal Marine Brigade) Rear Guard of the whole force, also entrained late in the afternoon together with many hundreds of refugees, but at Morbeke the line was cut, the engine derailed, and the enemy opened fire.

There was a considerable confusion. It was dark and the agitation of the refugees made it difficult to pass any orders. However, the battalion behaved admirably, and succeeded in fighting its way through, but with a loss in missing of more than half its number. They then marched another 10 miles to Selzaate and entrain there.

Colonel Seely and Colonel Bridges were not part of my command, but they rendered most skilful and helpful services during the evacuation.

The casualties are approximately—

Royal Marine Brigade, 23 killed, 103 wounded, 388 missing.

In conclusion, I would call your attention to the good services rendered by the following officers and men during the operations—

Fourth Supplement, dated the 1st January 1915, to the London Gazette, dated the 29th December 1914.

Admiralty,

1st January, 1915.

The following despatch has been received from Captain John C. T. Glossop, reporting the capture of the German Cruiser "Emden" by H.M.A.S. "Sydney."

A memorandum is also appended by the Director of the Air Department Admiralty, containing a report on the aerial attack on the airship sheds and factory at Friedrichshafen.

Despatch from Captain Glossop.

H. M. A. S. "Sydney" at Colombo,

15th November 1914.

SIR,

I have the honour to report that whilst on escort duty with the Convoy under the charge of Captain Silver, H. M. A. S. "Melbourne," at 6-30 A.M., on Monday, 9th November, a wireless message from Cocos was heard reporting that a foreign warship was off the entrance. I was ordered to raise steam for full speed at 7-0 A.M., and proceeded thither. I worked up to 20 knots, and at 9-15 A.M., sighted land ahead and almost immediately the smoke of a ship, which proved to be H. I. G. M. S. "Emden" coming out towards me at a great rate. At 9-40 A.M., fire was opened, she firing the first shot. I kept my distance as much as possible to obtain the advantage of my guns. Her fire was very accurate and rapid to begin with, but seemed to slacken very quickly, all casualties occurring in this ship almost immediately. First the foremost funnel of her went, secondly the foremast, and she was badly on fire aft, then the second Funnel went, and lastly the third funnel, and I saw she was making for the beach on North Keeling Island, where she grounded at 11-20 A.M. I gave her two more broadsides and left her to pursue a merchant ship which had come up during the action.

2. Although I had guns on this merchant ship at odd times during the action I had not fired, and as she was making off fast I pursued and overtook her at 12-10, firing a gun across her bows, and hoisting international Code Signal to stop, which she did. I sent an armed boat and found her to be the S.S "Buresk," a captured British collier, with 18 Chinese crew, 1 English Steward, 1 Norwegian Cook, and a German Prize Crew of 3 Officers, 1 Warrant Officer and 12 men. The ship unfortunately was sinking, the Kingston knocked out and damaged to prevent repairing, so I took all on board, fired 4 shells into her and returned to "Emden," passing men swimming in the water, for whom I left 2 boats I was towing from "Buresk."

3. On arriving again off "Emden" she still had her colours up at mainmast head. I enquired by Signal, International Code "Will you surrender?" and received a reply in Morse "What signal? No signal books" I then made in Morse "Do you surrender?" and subsequently "Have you received my signal?" to neither of which did I get an answer. The German Officers on board gave me to understand that the Captain would never surrender, and therefore, though very reluctantly, I again fired at her at 4-30 P.M., ceasing at 4-35, as she showed white flags and hauled down her ensign by sending a man aloft.

4. I then left "Emden" and returned and picked up the "Buresk's" two boats, rescuing 2 sailors (5-0 P.M.), who had been in the water all day. I returned and sent in one boat to "Emden," manned by her own prize crew from "Buresk," and 1 officer, and stating I would return to their assistance next morning. This I had to do, as I was desirous to find out the condition of cables and Wireless Station at Direction Island. On the passage over I was again delayed by rescuing another sailor (6-30 P.M.), and by the time I was again ready and approaching Direction Island it was too late for the night.

5. I lay on and off all night and communicated with Direction Island at 8 A.M., 10th November, to find that the "Emden's" party consisting of 3 officers and 40 men, 1 launch and 2 cutters had seized and provisioned a 70 tons schooner (the "Ayesha"), having 4 Maxims, with 2 belts to each. They left the previous night at six o'clock. The Wireless Station was entirely destroyed, 1 cable cut, 1 damaged, and 1 intact. I borrowed a Doctor and 2 Assistants, and proceeded as fast as possible to "Emden's" assistance.

6. I sent an officer on board to see the Captain, and in view of the large number of prisoners and wounded and lack of accommodation, etc., in this ship, and the absolute impossibility of leaving them where they were, he agreed that if I received his officers and men and all wounded, "then as for such time as they remained in 'Sydney' they would cause no interference with ship or fittings, and would be amenable to the ship's discipline." I therefore set to work at once to tranship them—a most difficult operation, the ship being on weather side of Island and the sand alongside very heavy. The conditions in the "Emden" were indescribable. I received the last from her at 5-0 P.M., then had to go round to the lee side to pick up 20 more men who had managed to get ashore from the ship.

7. Darkness came on before this could be accomplished, and the ship again stood off and on all night, resuming operations at 5-0 A.M. on 11th November, a cutter's crew having to land with stretchers to bring wounded round to embarking point. A German officer, a Doctor, died ashore the previous day. The ship in the meantime ran over to Direction Island to return their Doctor and Assistants, send cables, and was back again at 10-0 A.M., embarked the remainder of wounded, and proceeded for Colombo by 10-35 A.M., Wednesday, 11th November.

8. Total casualties in "Sydney": killed 3, severely wounded (since dead) 1, severely wounded 4, wounded 4, slightly wounded 4. In the "Emden" I can only approximately state the killed at 7 officers and 108 men from Captain's statement. I had on board 11 officers, 9 warrant officers, and 191 men, of whom 3 officers and 53 men were wounded, and of this number 1 officer and 3 men have since died of wounds.

9. The damage to "Sydney's" hull and fittings was surprisingly small; in all about 10 hits seem to have been made. The engine and boiler rooms and funnels escaped entirely.

13. I have great pleasure in stating that the behaviour of the ship's company was excellent in every way, and with such a large proportion of young hands and people under training it is all the more gratifying. The engines worked magnificently, and higher results than trials were obtained, and I cannot speak too highly of the Medical Staff and arrangements on subsequent trip, the ship being nothing but a hospital of a most painful description.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN C. T. GLOSSOP, Captain,

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

Memorandum by the Director of the Air Department.

Admiralty,
17th December 1914.

On 21st November, 1914, Squadron Commander E. F. Briggs, Flight Commander J. T. Babington, and Flight Lieutenant S. V. Sippe, Royal Navy, carried out an aerial attack on the Zeppelin airship sheds and factory at Friedrickshafen on Lake Constance.

Leaving French Territory shortly before 10 A.M., they arrived over their objective at about noon, and, although under a very heavy rifle, machine-gun and shrapnel fire from the moment they were sighted, they all three dived steeply to within a few hundred feet of the sheds, when they released their bombs—in all eleven.

Squadron Commander Briggs was wounded, brought down, and made a prisoner, but the other two officers regained their starting point after a flight of more than four hours across hostile country under very bad weather conditions.

It is believed that the damage caused by this attack includes the destruction of one airship and serious damage to the larger shed, and also demolition of the hydrogen-producing plant, which had only lately been completed. Later reports stated that flames of considerable magnitude were seen issuing from the factory immediately after the raid.

Third Supplement, dated the 16th February 1915, to the London Gazette, dated the 12th February 1915.

The following Despatch was received on the 12th February, 1915:—

To the Secretary of State for War, War Office, London, S. W.

General Headquarters,
2nd February 1915.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to forward a further report on the operations of the Army under my command

1. In the period under review the salient feature was the presence of His Majesty the King in the Field. His Majesty arrived at Headquarters on the 30th November, and left on the 5th December.

At a time when the strength and endurance of the troops had been tried to the utmost throughout the long and arduous Battle of Ypres-Armentières the presence of His Majesty in their midst was of the greatest possible help and encouragement.

His Majesty visited all parts of the extensive area of operations and held numerous inspections of the troops behind the line of trenches.

On the 16th November Lieutenant His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, K. G., Grenadier Guards, joined my Staff as Aide-de-Camp.

2. Since the date of my last report the operations of the Army under my command have been subject almost entirely to the limitations of weather.

History teaches us that the course of campaigns in Europe, which have been actively prosecuted during the months of December and January, have been largely influenced by weather conditions. It should, however be thoroughly understood throughout the country that the most recent development of armaments and the latest methods of conducting warfare have added greatly to the difficulties and draw-backs of a vigorous winter campaign.

To cause anything more than a waste of ammunition long-range artillery fire requires constant and accurate observation; but this most necessary condition is rendered impossible of attainment in the midst of continual fog and mist.

Again, armies have now grown accustomed to rely largely on aircraft reconnaissance for accurate information of the enemy; but the effective performance of this service is materially influenced by wind and weather.

The deadly accuracy, range and quick-firing capabilities of the modern rifle and machine gun require that a fire-swept zone be crossed in the shortest possible space of time by attacking troops. But if men are detained under the enemy's fire by the difficulty of emerging from a water-logged trench, and by the necessity of passing over ground knee-deep in holding mud and slush, such attacks become practically prohibitive owing to the losses they entail.

During the exigencies of the heavy fighting which ended in the last week of November the French and British Forces had become somewhat mixed up, entailing a certain amount of difficulty in matters of supply and in securing unity of command.

By the end of November I was able to concentrate the Army under my command in one area, and, by holding a shorter line to establish effective reserves.

By the beginning of December there was a considerable falling off in the volume of artillery fire directed against our front by the enemy. Reconnaissance and reports showed that a certain amount of artillery had been withdrawn. We judged that the cavalry in our front, with the exception of one Division of the Guard, had disappeared.

There did not, however, appear to have been any great diminution in the numbers of infantry holding the trenches.

3. Although both artillery and rifle fire were exchanged with the enemy every day, and sniping went on more or less continuously during the hours of daylight, the operations which call for special record or comment are comparatively few.

During the last week in November some successful minor night operations were carried out in the 4th Corps.

On the night of the 23rd-24th November a small party of the 2nd Lincolnshire Regiment, under Lieutenant E. H. Impey, cleared three of the enemy's advanced trenches opposite the 25th Brigade and withdrew without loss.

On the night of the 24th-25th Captain J. R. Minshull Ford, Royal Welsh Fusiliers, and Lieutenant E. L. Morris, Royal Engineers, with 15 men of the Royal Engineers and Royal Welsh Fusiliers, successfully mined and blew up a group of farms immediately in front of the German trenches on the Touquet-Bridoux Road which had been used by German snipers.

On the night of the 26th-27th November a small party of the 2nd Scots Guards, under Lieutenant Sir E. H. W. Hulse, Bt., rushed the trenches opposite the 20th Brigade; and after pouring a heavy fire into them returned with useful information as to the strength of the Germans and the position of machine guns.

The trenches opposite the 25th Brigade were rushed the same night by a patrol of the 2nd Rifle Brigade, under Lieutenant E. Durham.

On the 23rd November the 112th Regiment of the 14th German Army Crops succeeded in capturing some 800 yards of the trenches held by the Indian Corps, but the General Officer Commanding the Meerut Division, organized a powerful counter-attack, which lasted throughout the night. At daybreak on the 24th November the line was entirely re-established.

The operation was a costly one, involving many casualties, but the enemy suffered far more heavily.

We captured over 100 prisoners, including 3 officers, as well as 3 machine guns and 2 trench mortars.

On December 7th the concentration of the Indian Corps was completed by the arrival of the Sirhind Brigade from Egypt.

On December 9th the enemy attempted to commence a strong attack against the 3rd Corps, particularly in front of the trenches held by the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and the Middlesex Regiment.

They were driven back with heavy loss, and did not renew the attempt. Our casualties were very slight.

During the early days of December certain indications along the whole front of the Allied Line induced the French Commanders and myself to believe that the enemy had withdrawn considerable forces from the Western Theatre.

Arrangements were made with the Commander of the 8th French Army for an attack to be commenced on the morning of December 14th.

Operations began at 7 A.M. by a combined heavy artillery bombardment by the two French and the 2nd British Corps.

The British objectives were the Petit Bois and the Maedelsteed Spur, lying respectively to the west and south-west of the village of Wytschaete.

At 7-45 A.M. the Royal Scots, with great dash, rushed forward and attacked the former, while the Gordon Highlanders attacked the latter place.

The Royal Scots commanded by Major F. J. Duncan, D.S.O. in face of a terrible machine gun and rifle fire, carried the German trench on the west edge of the Petit Bois, capturing two machine guns and 53 prisoners, including one officer.

The Gordon Highlanders, with great gallantry, advanced up the Maedelsteed Spur, forcing the enemy to evacuate their front trench. They were, however, losing heavily, and found themselves unable to get any further. At nightfall they were obliged to fall back to their original position.

Captain C. Boddam-Whetham and Lieutenant W. F. R. Dobie showed splendid dash, and with a few men entered the enemy's leading trenches; but they were all either killed or captured.

Lieutenant G. R V. Hume-Gore and Lieutenant W. H. Paterson also distinguished themselves by their gallant leading.

Although not successful, the operation was most creditable to the fighting spirit of the Gordon Highlanders, most ably commanded by Major A. W. F. Baird, D.S.C.

As the 32nd French Division on the left had been unable to make any progress, the further advance of our infantry into the Wytschaete Wood was not practicable.

Possession of the western edge of the Petit Bois was, however, retained.

The ground was devoid of cover and so water-logged that a rapid advance was impossible, the men sinking deep in the mud at every step they took.

The artillery throughout the day was very skilfully handled by the C.R.A's of the 3rd, 4th and 5th Divisions: Major-General F. D. V. Wing, C.B., Brigadier-General G. F. Milne C.B., D.S.O., and Brigadier-General J. E. W. Headlam, C.B., D.S.O.

The casualties during the day were about 17 officers and 407 other ranks. The losses of the enemy were very considerable, large numbers of dead being found in the Petit Bois and also in the communicating trenches in front of the Gordon Highlanders, in one of which a hundred were counted by a night patrol.

On this day the artillery of the 4th Division, 3rd Corps, was used in support of the attack, under orders of the General Officer Commanding, 2nd Corps.

The remainder of the 3rd Corps made demonstrations against the enemy with a view to preventing him from detaching troops to the area of operations of the 2nd Crops

From the 15th to 17th December the offensive operations which were commenced on the 11th were continued, but were confined chiefly to artillery bombardment.

The infantry advance against Wytschaete Wood was not practicable until the French on our left could make some progress to afford protection to that flank.

On the 17th it was agreed that the plan of attack as arranged should be modified · but I was requested to continue demonstrations along my line in order to assist and support certain French operations which were being conducted elsewhere.

4. In his desire to act with energy up to his instructions to demonstrate and occupy the enemy, the General Officer Commanding the Indian Corps decided to take the advantage of what appeared to him a favourable opportunity to launch attacks aginst the advanced trenches in his front on the 18th and 19th December.

The attack of the Meerut Division on the left was made on the morning of the 19th with energy and determination, and was at first attended with considerable success, the enemy's advanced trenches being captured. Later on, however, a counter-attack drove them back to their original position with considerable loss.

The attack of the Lahore Division commenced at 4-30 A.M. It was carried out by two companies each of the 1st Highland Light Infantry and the 1st Battalion, 4th Gurkha Rifles, of the Sirhind Brigade, under Lieutenant-Colonel R. W. H. Ronaldson. This attack was completely successful, two lines of the enemy's trenches being captured with little loss.

Before daylight the captured trenches were filled with as many men as they would hold. The front was very restricted, communication to the rear impossible.

At daybreak it was found that the position was practically untenable. Both flanks were in the air, and a supporting attack, which was late in starting, and therefore, conducted during daylight, failed; although attempted with the greatest gallantry and resolution.

Lieutenant-Colonel Ronaldson held on till dusk, when the whole of the captured trenches had to be evacuated, and the detachment fell back to its original line.

By the night of the 19th December nearly all the ground gained during the day had been lost.

From daylight on the 20th December the enemy commenced a heavy fire from artillery and trench mortars on the whole front of the Indian Corps. This was followed by infantry attacks, which were in especial force againt Givenchy, and between that place and La Quinque Rue.

At about 10 A.M. the enemy succeeded in driving back the Sirhind Brigade, and capturing a considerable part of Givenchy, but the 57th Rifles and 9th Bhopals, north of the canal, and the Connaught Rangers, south of it, stood firm.

The 15th Sikhs of the Divisional Reserve were already supporting the Sirhind Brigade. On the news of the retirement of the latter being received, the 47th Sikhs were also sent up to reinforce General Brunker. The 1st Manchester Regiment, 4th Suffolk Regiment, and two battalions of French Territorials under General Carnegy were ordered to launch a vigorous counter-attack from Pont Fixe through Givenchy to retake by a flank attack the trenches lost by the Sirhind Brigade.

Orders were sent to General Carnegy to divert his attack on Givenchy Village, and to re-establish the situation there.

A battalion of the 58th French Division was sent to Annequin in support.

About 5 P.M. a gallant attack by the 1st Manchester Regiment and one company of the 4th Suffolk Regiment had captured Givenchy, and had cleared the enemy out of the two lines of trenches to the north-east. To the east of the village the 9th Bhopal Infantry and 57th Rifles had maintained their positions, but the enemy were still in possession of our trenches to the north of the village.

General Macbean, with the Secunderabad Cavalry Brigade, 2nd Battalion, 8th Gurkha Rifles, and the 47th Sikhs, was sent up to support General Brunker, who at 2 P.M. directed General Macbean to move to a position of readiness in the second line trenches from Maris northward, and to counter-attack vigorously if opportunity offered.

Some considerable delay appears to have occurred, and it was not until 1 A.M. on the 21st that the 47th Sikhs and the 7th Dragoon Guards under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel H. A. Lempriere, D.S.O., of the latter regiment, were launched in counter-attack.

They reached the enemy's trenches, but were driven out by enfilade fire, their gallant Commander being killed.

The main attack by the remainder of General Macbean's force, with the remnants of Lieutenant-Colonel Lempriere's detachment (which had again been rallied), was finally pushed in at about 4-30 A.M., and also failed.

In the northern section of the defensive line the retirement of the 2nd Battalion, 2nd Gurkha Rifles, at about 10 A.M. on the 20th, had left the flank of the 1st Seaforth Highlanders, on the extreme right of the Meerut Division line, much exposed. This battalion was left shortly afterwards completely in the air by the retirement of the Sirhind Brigade.

The 58th Rifles, therefore, were ordered to support the left of the Seaforth Highlanders, to fill the gap created by the retirement of the Gurkhas.

During the whole of the afternoon strenuous efforts were made by the Seaforth Highlanders to clear the trenches to their right and left. The 1st Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles, reinforced the 2nd Gurkhas near the orchard where the Germans were in occupation of the trenches abandoned by the latter regiment. The Garhwal Brigade was being very heavily attacked, and their trenches and loopholes were much damaged; but the brigade continued to hold its front and attack, connecting with the 6th Jats on the left of the Dehra Dun Brigade.

No advance in force was made by the enemy, but the troops were pinned to their ground by heavy artillery fire, the Seaforth Highlanders especially suffering heavily.

Shortly before nightfall the 2nd Royal Highlanders on the right of the Seaforth Highlanders had succeeded in establishing touch with the Sirhind Brigade; and the continuous line (though dented near the orchard) existed throughout the Meerut Division.

Early in the afternoon of December 20th orders were sent to the 1st Crops, which was then in general army reserve, to send an infantry brigade to support the Indian Crops.

The 1st Brigade was ordered to Bethune, and reached that place at midnight on 20th-21st December. Later in the day Sir Douglas Haig was ordered to move the whole of the 1st Division in support of the Indian Crops.

The 3rd Brigade reached Bethune between 8 A.M. and 9 A.M. on the 21st, and on the same date the 2nd Brigade arrived at Lacon at 1 P.M.

The 1st Brigade was directed on Givenchy, via Pont Fixe, and the 3rd Brigade, through Gorre, on the trenches evacuated by the Sirhind Brigade.

The 2nd Brigade was directed to support; the Dehra Dun Brigade being placed at the disposal of the General Officer Commanding, Meerut Division.

At 1 P.M. the General Officer Commanding 1st Division directed the 1st Brigade in attack from the west of Givenchy in a north-easterly direction, and the [illegible] Brigade from Festubert in an east-north-easterly direction, the object being to [illegible] the position originally held by us and to capture the German trenches 400 yards to the east of it.

By 5 P.M. the last Brigade had obtained a hold in Givenchy, and the ground south as far as the canal; and the 3rd Brigade had progressed to a point half a mile west of Festubert.

By nightfall the 1st South Wales Borderers and the 2nd Welsh Regiment of the 3rd Brigade had made a lodgment in the original trenches to the north-east of Festubert, the 1st Gloucestershire Regiment continuing the line southward along the track east of Festubert.

The 1st Brigade had established itself on the east side of Givenchy.

By 3 P.M. the 3rd Brigade was concentrated at Le Touret, and was ordered to retake the trenches which had been lost by the Dehra Dun Brigade.

By 10 P.M. the support trenches west of the orchard had been carried, but the original fire trenches had been so completely destroyed that they could not be occupied.

This operation was performed by the 1st Loyal North Lancashire Regiment and the 1st Northamptonshire Regiment, supported by the 2nd King's Royal Rifle Corps, in reserve.

Throughout this day the units of the Indian Crops rendered all the assistance and support they could in view of their exhausted condition.

At 1 P.M. on the 22nd Sir Douglas Haig took over command from Sir James Willcocks. The situation in the front line was then approximately as follows:—

South of the La Bassée Canal the Connaught Rangers of the Ferozepore Brigade had not been attacked. North of the canal a short length of our original line was still held by the 9th Bhopals and the 57th Rifles of the same brigade. Connecting with the latter was the 1st Brigade holding the village of Givenchy and its eastern and northern approaches. On the left of the 1st Brigade was the 3rd Brigade. Touch had been lost beween the left of the former and the right of the latter. The 3rd Brigade held a line along, and in places advanced to, the east of the Festubert Road. Its left was in communication with the right of the Meerut Division line, where troops of the 2nd Brigade had just relieved the 1st Seaforth Highlanders. To the north, units of the 2nd Brigade held an indented line west of the orchard, connecting with half of the 2nd Royal Highlanders, half of the 41st Dogras and the 1st Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles. From this point to north the 6th Jats and the whole of the Garhwal Brigade occupied the original line which they had held from the commencement of the operations.

The relief of most units of the southern sector was effected on the night of 22nd December. The Meerut Division remained under the orders of the 1st Crops, and was not completely withdrawn until the 27th December.

In the evening the position at Givenchy was practically re-established, and the third Brigade had re-occupied the old line of trenches.

During the 23rd the enemy's activities ceased, and the whole position was restored to very much its original condition.

In my last despatch I had occasion to mention the prompt and ready help I received from the Lahore Division, under the command of Major-General H. B. B. Watkis, C.B., which was thrown into action immediately on arrival, when the British Forces were very hard pressed during the battle of Ypres-Armentiéres.

The Indian troops have fought with the utmost steadfastness and gallantry whenever they have been called upon.

Weather conditions were abnormally bad, the snow and floods precluding any active operations during the first three weeks of January.

5. At 7-30 A.M. on the 25th January the enemy began to shell Bethune, and at 8 A.M. a strong hostile infantry attack developed south of the canal, preceded by a heavy bombardment of artillery, minenwerfers and, possibly, the explosion of mines, though the latter is doubtful.

The British line south of the canal formed a pronounced salient from the canal on the left, thence running forward toward the railway triangle and back to the main La Bassée-Bethune Road, where it joined the French. This line was occupied by half a battalion of the Scots Guards, and half a battalion of the Coldstream Guards, of the 1st Infantry Brigade. The trenches in the salient were blown in almost at once; and the enemy's attack penetrated this line. Our troops retired to a partially prepared second line, running approximately due north and south from the canal to the road, some 500 yards west of the railway triangle. This second line had been strengthened by the construction of a keep half way between the canal and the road. Here the other two half battalions of the abovementioned regiments were in support.

These supports held up the enemy who, however, managed to establish himself in the brick stacks and some communication trenches between the keep, the road and the canal—and even beyond and west of the keep on either side of it.

The London Scottish had in the meantime been sent up in support, and a counter-attack was organised with the 1st Royal Highlanders, part of the 1st Cameron Highlanders, and the 2nd King's Royal Rifle Corps, the latter regiment having been sent forward from the Divisional Reserve.

The counter-attack was delayed in order to synchronise with a counter-attack north of the canal which was arranged for 1 P.M.

At 1 P.M. these troops moved forward, their flanks making good progress near the road and the canal, but their centre being held up. The 2nd Royal Sussex Regiment was then sent forward, late in the afternoon, to reinforce. The result was that the Germans were driven back far enough to enable a somewhat broken line to be taken up, running from the culvert on the railway, almost due south to the keep, and thence south-east to the main road.

The French left near the road had also been attacked and driven back a little, but not to so great an extent as the British right. Consequently, the French left was in advance of the British right and exposed to a possible flank attack from the north.

The Germans did not, however, persevere further in their attack.

The abovementioned line was strengthened during the night; and the 1st Guards Brigade, which had suffered severely, was withdrawn into reserve and replaced by the 2nd Infantry Brigade.

While this was taking place another and equally severe attack was delivered north of the canal against the village of Givenchy.

At 8-15 A.M., after a heavy artillery bombardment with high explosive shells, the enemy's infantry advanced under the effective fire of our artillery, which, however, was hampered by the constant interruption of telephonic communication between the observers and batteries. Nevertheless, our artillery fire, combined with that of the infantry in the fire trenches, had the effect of driving the enemy from his original direction of advance, with the result that his troops crowded together on the north-east corner of the village and broke through into the centre of the village as far as the keep, which had been previously put in a state of defence. The Germans had lost heavily, and a well-timed local counter-attack, delivered by the reserves of the 2nd Welsh Regiment and 1st South Wales Borderers, and by a company of the 1st Royal Highlanders (lent by the 1st Brigade as a working party—this company was at work on the keep at the time), was completely successful, with the result that, after about an hour's street fighting, all who had broken into the village were either captured or killed; and the original line round the village was re-established by noon.

South of the village, however, and close to the canal, the right of the 2nd Royal Munster Fusiliers fell back in conformity with the troops south of the canal; but after dark that regiment moved forward and occupied the old line.

During the course of the attack on Givenchy the enemy made five assaults on the salient at the north-east of the village about French Farm, but was repulsed every time with heavy loss.

6. On the morning of the 29th January attacks were made on the right of the 1st Corps, south of the canal in the neighbourhood of La Bassée.

The enemy (part of the 14th German Corps), after a severe shelling, made a violent attack with scaling ladders on the keep, also to the north and south of it. In the keep and on the north side the Sussex Regiment held the enemy off, inflicting on him serious losses. On the south side the hostile infantry succeeded in reaching the Northamptonshire Regiment's trenches; but were immediately counter-attacked and all killed. Our artillery co-operated well with the infantry in repelling the attack.

In this action our casualties were inconsiderable, but the enemy lost severely, more than 200 of his killed alone being left in front of our position.

7. On the 1st February a fine piece of work was carried out by the 4th Brigade in the neighbourhood of Cuinchy.

Some of the 2nd Coldstream Guards were driven from their trenches at 2-30 A.M., but made a stand some twenty yards east of them in a position which they held till morning.

A counter-attack, lunched at 3-15 A.M. by one company of the Irish Guards and half a company of the 2nd Coldstream Guards, proved unsuccessful, owing to heavy rifle fire from the east and south.

At 10-5 A.M., acting under orders of the 1st Division, a heavy bombardment was opened on the lost ground for ten minutes; and this was followed immediately by an assault by about 50 men of the 2nd Coldstream Guards with bayonets, led by Captain A. Leigh Bennett, followed by 30 men of the Irish Guards, led by Second Lieutenant F. F. Graham, also with bayonets. These were followed by a party of Royal Engineers with sand bags and wire.

All the ground which had been lost was brilliantly retaken; the 2nd Coldstream Guards also taking another German trench and capturing two machine guns.

Thirty-two prisoners fell into our hands.

The General Officer Commanding 1st Division describes the preparation by the artillery as "splendid, the high explosive shells dropping in the exact spot with absolute precision."

In forwarding his report on this engagement, the General Officer Commanding First Army writes as follows :—

"Special credit is due—

"(i) To Major-General Haking, Commanding 1st Division, for the prompt manner in which he arranged this counter-attack and for the general plan of action, which was crowned with success.

"(ii) To the General Officer Commanding the 4th Brigade (Lord Cavan) for the thorough manner in which he carried out the orders of the General Officer Commanding the Division.

"(iii) To the regimental officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the 2nd Coldstream Guards and Irish Guards, who, with indomitable pluck, stormed two sets of barricades, captured three German trenches, two machine guns, and killed or made prisoners many of the enemy."

8. During the period under report the Royal Flying Corps has again performed splendid service.

Although the weather was almost uniformly bad and the machines suffered from constant exposure, there have been only thirteen days on which no actual reconnaissance has been effected. Approximately, one hundred thousand miles have been flown.

In addition to the daily and constant work of reconnaissance and co-operation with the artillery, a number of aerial combats have been fought, raids carried out, detrainments harassed, parks and petrol depôts bombed, etc.

Various successful bomb-dropping raids have been carried out, usually against the enemy's aircraft material. The principle of attacking hostile aircraft whenever and wherever seen (unless highly important information is being delivered) has been adhered to, and has resulted in the moral fact that enemy machines invariably beat immediate retreat when chased.

Five German aeroplanes are known to have been brought to the ground, and it would appear probable that others, though they have managed to reach their own lines, have done so in a considerably damaged condition.

9. In my despatch of 20th November 1914, I referred to the reinforcements of Territorial Troops which I had received, and I mentioned several units which had already been employed in the fighting line.

In the positions which I held for some years before the outbreak of this war I was brought into close contact with the Territorial Force, and I found every reason to hope and believe that, when the hour of trial arrived, they would justify every hope and trust which was placed in them.

The Lords Lieutenant of Counties and the Associations which worked under them bestowed a vast amount of labour and energy on the organization of the Territorial Force; and I trust it may be some recompense to them to know that I, and the principal Commanders serving under me, consider that the Territorial Force has far more than justified the most sanguine hopes that any of us ventured to entertain of their value and use in the field. Commanders of Cavalry Divisions are unstinted in their praise of the manner in which the Yeomanry regiments attached to their brigades have done their duty, both in and out of action. The service of Divisional Cavalry is now almost entirely performed by Yeomanry, and Divisional Commanders report that they are very efficient.

Army Crops Commanders are loud in their praise of the Territorial Battalions which form part of nearly all the brigades at the front in the first line, and more than one of them have told me that these battalions are fast approaching—if they have not already reached—the standard of efficiency of Regular Infantry.

I wish to add a word about the Officers' Training Corps. The presence of the Artists' Rifles (28th Battalion, The London Regiment) with the Army in France enabled me also to test the value of this organization.

Having had some experience in peace of the working of the Officers Training Corps I determined to turn the Artists' Rifles (which formed part of the Officers Training Crops in peace time) to its legitimate use. I therefore established the battalion as a Training Crops for Officers in the field.

The cadets pass through a course, which includes some thoroughly practical training as all cadets do a tour of 48 hours in the trenches, and afterwards write a report on what they see and notice. They also visit an observation post of a battery or group of batteries, and spend some hours there.

A Commandant has been appointed, and he arranges and supervises the work, sets schemes for practice, administers the school, delivers lectures, and reports on candidates.

The cadets are instructed in all branches of military training suitable for platoon commanders.

Machine gun tactics, a knowledge of which is so necessary for all junior officers, is a special feature of the course of instruction.

When first started the school was able to turn out officers at the rate of 75 a month. This has since been increased to 100.

Reports received from Divisional and Army Corps Commanders on officers who have been trained at the school are most satisfactory.

10. Since the date of my last report I have been able to make a close personal inspection of all the units in the command. I was most favourably impressed by all I saw.

The troops composing the Army in France have been subjected to as severe a trial as it is possible to impose upon any body of men. The desperate fighting described in my last despatch had hardly been brought to a conclusion when they were called upon to face the rigours and hardships of a winter campaign. Frost and snow have alternated with periods of continuous rain.

The men have been called upon to stand for many hours together almost up to their waists in bitterly cold water, only separated by one or two hundred yards from a most vigilant enemy.

Although every measure which science and medical knowledge could suggest to mitigate these hardships was employed, the sufferings of the men have been very great.

In spite of all this they presented, at the inspections to which I have referred, a most soldier-like, splendid, though somewhat warworn appearance. Their spirit remains high and confident; their general health is excellent, and their condition most satisfactory.

I regard it as most unfortunate that circumstances have prevented any account of many splendid instances of courage and endurance, in the face of almost unparalleled hardship and fatigue in war, coming regularly to the knowledge of the public.

Reinforcements have arrived from England with remarkable promptitude and rapidity. They have been speedily drafted into the ranks, and most of the units I inspected were nearly complete when I saw them. In appearance and quality the draft sent out have exceeded my most sanguine expectations, and I consider the Army in France is much indebted to the Adjutant-General's Department at the War Office for the efficient manner in which its requirements have been met in this most essential respect.

With regard to these inspections, I may mention in particular the fine appearance presented by the 27th and 28th Divisions composed principally of battalions which had come from India. Included in the former division was the Princess Particia's Royal Canadian Regiment. They are a magnificent set of men, and have since done excellent work in the trenches.

It was some three weeks after the events recorded in paragraph 4 that I made my inspection of the Indian Corps, under Sir James Willcocks. The appearance they presented was most satisfactory, and fully confirmed my first opinion that the Indian troops only required rest, and a little acclimatizing, to bring out all their fine inherent fighting qualities.

I saw the whole of the Indian Cavalry Corps, under Lieutenant-General Rimington, on a mounted parade soon after their arrival. They are a magnificent body of Cavalry, and will, I feel sure, give the best possible account of themselves when called upon.

In the meantime, at their own particular request, they have taken their turn in the trenches and performed most useful and valuable service.

11. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Taylor Smith, C.V.O., D.D., Chaplain-General to the Forces, arrived at my Headquarters on 6th January, on a tour of inspection throughout the command.

The Cardinal Archbishop of Westminster has also visited most of the Irish Regiments at the front and the principal centres on the Line of Communications.

In a quiet and unostentatious manner the chaplains of all denominations have worked with devotion and energy in their respective spheres.

The number with the forces in the field at the commencement of the war was comparatively small, but towards the end of last year the Rev. J. M. Sims, D. D., K. H. C., Principal Chaplain, assisted by his Secretary, the Rev. W. Drury, reorganised the branch, and placed the spiritual welfare of the soldier on a more satisfactory footing. It is hoped that the further increase of personnel may be found possible.

I cannot speak too highly of the devoted manner in which all chaplains, whether with the troops in the trenches, or in attendance on the sick and wounded in casualty clearing stations and hospitals on the Line of Communications, have worked throughout the campaign.

Since the commencement of hostilities the work of the Royal Army Medical Crops has been carried out with untiring zeal, skill and devotion. Whether at the front under conditions such as obtained during the fighting on the Aisne, when casualties were heavy and accommodation for their reception had to be improvised, or on the Line of Communications, where an average of some 11,000 patients have been daily under treatment, the organisation of the Medical Services has always been equal to the demands made upon it.

The careful system of sanitation introduced into the Army has, with the assistance of other measures, kept the troops free from any epidemic, in support of which it is to be noticed that since the commencement of the war some 500 cases only of enteric have occurred.

The organisation for the first time in war of Motor Ambulance Convoys is due to the initiative and organising powers of Surgeon-General T. J. O'Donell, D.S.O., ably assisted by Major P. Evans, Royal Army Medical Corps.

Two of these convoys, composed entirely of Red Cross Society personnel, have done excellent work under the superintendence of Regular Medical Officers.

Twelve Hospital Trains ply between the front and the various bases. I have visited several of the trains when halted in stations, and have found them conducted with great comfort and efficiency.

During the more recent phase of the campaign the creation of Rest Depôts at the front has materially reduced the wastage of men to the Line of Communications.

Since the latter part of October, 1914, the whole of the medical arrangements have been in the hands of Surgeon-General Sir A. T. Sloggett, C. M. G., K. H. S., under whom Surgeon-General T. P. Woodhouse and Surgeon-General T. J. O'Donnell have been responsible for the organisation on the Line of Communications and at the front respectively.

12. The exceptional and peculiar conditions brought about by the weather have caused large demands to be made upon the resources and skill of the Royal Engineers.

Every kind of expedient has had to be thought out and adopted to keep the lines of trenches and defence work effective.

The Royal Engineers have shown themselves as capable of overcoming the ravages caused by violent rain and floods as they have been throughout in neutralising the effect of the enemy's artillery.

In this connection I wish particularly to mention the excellent services performed by my Chief Engineer, Brigadier-General G. H. Fowke, who has been indefatigable in supervising all such work. His ingenuity and skill have been most valuable in the local construction of the various expedients which experience has shown to be necessary in prolonged trench warfare.

13. I have no reason to modify in any material degree my views of the general military situation, as expressed in my despatch of November 20th, 1914.

14. I have once more gratefully to acknowledge the valuable help and support I have received throughout this period from General Foch, General D'Urbal and General Maud'huy of the French Army.

I have the honour to be,

Your Lordship's most obedient Servant,

J. D. P. FRENCH, Field-Marshal,

Commanding-in-Chief,

The British Army in the Field.

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel, entering or passing along any of the above lines of navigation, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on the line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

(a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

(b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

(c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.

(d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found under clauses (a), (b) and (c) is to be made for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along any of the above lines of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the canals or any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted, and at the station from whence issued.

7. Duplicates of lost tickets of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows :—

Timber in rafts or loose ...	One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats ...	Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts ...	Eight annas per 100 per day.

Provided as follows :—

(1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in canal by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.

(2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canals.

(3) Partial exemption from payment of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus :—

(a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3) which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds (N.B.—from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed) ;

(b) by granting the following extra times for the purpose of bona-fide loading and unloading in the canals to—

		Days.

„ „ from 110 to 200 maunds ...	...	8

„ „ from 310 to 400 maunds ...	...	12
„ „ of 410 maunds and upwards ...	...	14
Passenger boats of 10 maunds and upwards	...	3

The extra times will be granted to boats which either load or unload or both in the canals, but will not apply to boats which both enter and leave the canal empty, the time allowed being as laid down in rule 3 only.

(c) Boats plying in the Balighye main and branch drains will be allowed extra times as noted above for both journeys—entering and leaving—separately, even if plying empty.

9. Boats are allowed to be moored while waiting for cargo or otherwise, or may be loaded and unloaded, anywhere in the canals, except within 500 feet of any lock and within 150 feet on either side of any sluice and except where specially prohibited by the canal staff. In any case they must complete the voyage within the time allowable to them under these orders, otherwise demurrage will be charged.

11. Except with the written permission of a navigation officer, no goods or cargo may be deposited on any bank, berm or land appertaining to the canal at places other than those notified by the Superintending Engineer of the circle as available for such a purpose. Any person depositing goods in contravention of this rule shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Navigation officers may order consignors or consignees or owners to remove their goods from the places notified as available for depositing cargo under rule 11. Goods not finally removed within a period of six days from the receipt of such order shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds for each day or part of a day after the expiry of six days until finally removed.

13. Any vessel whose extreme dimensions exceed 130 feet in length and 19 feet in breadth including goods overhanging is prohibited from entering or passing along the canals or a line of navigation without the special permission in writing of the Executive Engineer; also no vessel exceeding 40 feet in length and 8 feet in breadth including goods overhanging will be allowed to enter or pass along the Balighye drain from Chowmook to Tikrapara and the branch drain from Chowmook to the Balighye Road bridge.

14. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or despatch boats or passenger or cargo-boats in tow of steam-vessels; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

15. Mooring.—All vessels stopping at night must be moored head and stern to the bank of the channel or wherever specially ordered.

Only one line of vessels shall be allowed to pass along a canal or to make fast along and in a line with the canal banks or along and in a line with the banks of the river entrance to the locks, and no vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of vessels so secured, without the permission of a navigation officer. No vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation.

16. Rule of the Road.—When under sail, vessels are to keep in the centre of the channel. When being tracked, vessels are, wherever practicable, to keep to starboard or right side of the channel. Vessels meeting in a canal, except when being tracked, must keep to their right when passing, and when one vessel overtakes another, the former must pass on the left. When vessels, one of which is sailing and the other steaming, meet in a canal, the sailing vessel must keep to the leeward. A steamer passing any vessel is bound to go at a speed not greater than half speed.

17. Lights and signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in a line of navigation, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light, in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the white light prescribed above.

Where signals are used, no vessel shall enter or attempt to enter the entrance channel of a lock when a red flag or red light is displayed at the end of the lock next her, "but shall wait until the signal intimating 'all clear' is displayed." Steam-vessels approaching a lock shall whistle when a mile distant, and shall continue to whistle at intervals, until the signal intimating that the lock is open or closed is displayed, or, if no signals are used, until arrival.

18. Crews and Attendants.—Every vessel when stationary shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

19. Fittings.—Vessels must have their masts, high awnings, and funnels fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and no bamboos or poles shall be erected on or by vessels when at anchor.

20. Conduct of navigation.—Vessels are prohibited from making fast to any portion of the lock-gates or gearing, and steamers are prohibited from making fast the tow-lines of their boats until the latter are clear of the locks. Steamers are prohibited from lashing boats or barges alongside while proceeding within locks. Towing ropes of a greater length than 50 feet are not to be used in a canal. The throwing of cinders into any canal is prohibited; they are to be deposited on the banks.

21. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken vessels, the Supervisor of the line of navigation or of a part of it may call upon the person in charge of the vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Supervisor, this officer may, under the provisions of section 14 of the Act, undertake the removal of the obstruction himself at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in section 9 of the "Canals Act, 1864".

In the case of emergency and in the temporary absence of the Supervisor from the place where the obstruction occurred any navigation officer present must at once report the matter to the Supervisor.

22. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boats seized under the "Canals Act", he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

23. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a vessel, the navigation officers may detain the vessel at any point within the canal for a period not exceeding 48 hours; provided that, within that period, the navigation officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the vessel before a Magistrate under section 16 of the "Canals Act".

24. For any contravention of rules 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, the person in charge of the vessel shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

25. The term "navigation officers" as used in the foregoing rules shall include all persons appointed under section 8 of the "Canals Act, 1864", and all Public Works Officers or subordinates in charge of the canal not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

26. The canals may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency, the canals may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

9. (1) Monthly tickets are, at the option of the payers, issued to boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles going to the Orphangunge Bazar or to Dhappa. The cost of these tickets is at six times the ordinary toll as calculated by the above rates, if the tickets are issued at the Supervisor's office, and at ten times the ordinary toll as calculated by the above rates, if the tickets are issued at the toll-station at Dhappa or at Kidderpore.

(2) Monthly tickets at ten times the ordinary toll as calculated under item 1 of the Schedule for entering the canals from the eastward will be issued to boats carrying passengers, vegetables and perishable goods for plying within the Circular, New Cut and Kristopur Canals. These tickets will not entitle the boats to pass through the Dhappa or Chitpur Lock, but they will be allowed to pass the Kristopur Toll-station.

10. Excess tolls.—Vessels which are passing through the canals, and which enter either empty or partially loaded, are liable to pay excess tolls at the above rates, if their tonnage by canal measurement is greater when they are leaving the canals than it was when they entered them. Vessels entering at Chitpur, Kidderpore, and Chetla for the purpose of loading in the canals pay at the time of entry with reference to their line of usual immersion according to Canal Rules.

11. Demurrage.—Every vessel, raft or float, which has paid toll, shall be allowed three days for passing through the Circular Canals and two days for Tolly's Nala between Gurreah and Kidderpore, and three days for Soorah outside Dhappa Lock, the days of entering and leaving being both included. In addition to these periods, they may, without further payment, remain in the canals for the further undermentioned periods, that is to say—

Boats.—Two days for the first hundred maunds and one day for every hundred maunds above the first hundred maunds.

Floats.—Two days for any number of timbers not exceeding fifty, and one day for every additional fifty.

Rafts.—Two days for any number of bamboos not exceeding five hundred, and one day for every additional five hundred.

Every vessel, raft or float remaining in any part of the aforesaid canals longer than the period allowed under the foregoing rules shall, for each day in excess of such period, be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll payable under the schedules above, provided that the demurrage charged shall in no case exceed Rs. 5 per diem.

[Note.—Open dinghees accompanying large boats are entitled to the same demurrage allowance of time as the parent boats.]

12. Steamers or flats passing through the Lower Sunderbans Channels must pay tolls at the rate of Rs. 5 each before leaving and on return to Calcutta.

13. (1) During neap-tides, when there is not sufficient water in the Tolly's Nala near Russa for the navigation of boats laden with firewood, they will be allowed to proceed to or from the river Bidyadhari through the Circular Canal on payment of a rate of eight annas per 100 maunds of measured maundage for passage through that canal, in addition to the rate ordinarily payable for entering or plying in Tolly's Nala.

(2) For the purposes of reckoning demurrage charges, in the case of such boats, under item 11 of the Schedule, two extra days will be allowed over and above those provided for vessels plying in the Tolly's Nala.

(3) Boats plying under this concession will not be allowed either to load or to unload along the Circular Canal or river Hooghly. Infringement of this rule will render the boats liable to the ordinary tolls in force for the Circular Canal.

14. Additional toll.—All boats, steamers and flats, after passing out of the Dhappa Lock, must proceed outside the toll limit at Bamanghata within 48 hours; otherwise a fresh toll will be levied in accordance with the rules in force.

15. (1) During the period from the 1st December to the 15th June, boats laden with rice or paddy will be allowed to proceed to or from the river Bidyadhari through the Circular Canal and the Tolly's Nala viâ Kidderpore on payment of a rate of Re. 1-12 per hundred maunds of measured maundage for passage through these canals.

(2) Boats plying under this concession will be charged the ordinary concession rate of Re. 1-12 per hundred maunds, and on leaving Tolly's Nala a further charge of 12 annas per hundred maunds only will be made if loaded with cargo other than paddy or rice, the maundage charged for and the amount charged being endorsed on the back of the concession ticket by the Toll Collector, Kidderpore.

(3) If any boat picks up more cargo, either in the Hooghly or in the Circular Canal, the Toll Collectors at Chitpur and Dhappa, respectively, will assess and collect the extra toll due on the cargo at 12 annas per hundred maunds, provided that the maundage of the boat does not exceed that when it originally entered at Dhappa.

(4) If there is an excess on leaving Tolly's Nala, a rate of Rs. 2-8 per hundred maunds will be charged on the extra cargo at Kidderpore. This will entitle the boat to pass through to Dhappa Lock and out without any further payment.

(5) If the cargo is picked up either in the Hooghly or in the Circular Canal, the extra toll on the extra amount will be charged at the rate of Re. 1-12 per hundred maunds.

(6) For the purposes of reckoning demurrage charges under item 11 of this Schedule in the case of boats laden with rice or paddy during the period from the 1st December to the 15th June, two extra days will be allowed over and above those provided for vessels plying in the Tolly's Nala.

THE ARMY (SUSPENSION OF SENTENCES) ACT, 1915.

[5 GEO. 5, CH. 23.]

AN ACT TO AUTHORISE THE SUSPENSION OF SENTENCES OF PENAL SERVITUDE AND IMPRISONMENT PASSED ON SOLDIERS ENGAGED IN ACTIVE SERVICE BEYOND THE SEAS DURING THE PRESENT WAR.

[16th March, 1915.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

Power to suspend sentences of penal servitude or imprisonment.

1.—(1) Where a soldier employed on active service beyond the seas during the present war is sentenced to penal servitude or imprisonment, the confirming authority to whom the sentence is submitted for confirmation may, when confirming the sentence, direct that the soldier be not committed to prison until the orders of a superior military authority have been obtained.

(2) A superior military authority may in the case of any such soldier so sentenced—

(a) direct that a committal to prison shall not be issued until his orders have been obtained ;

(b) suspend the sentence whether or not the soldier has already been committed to prison.

(3) Where a sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment is suspended under this section before the soldier has been committed to prison, the soldier if in custody shall be released, and, notwithstanding anything in the Army Act, the sentence shall not begin to run until the soldier is committed to prison under that sentence.

(4) Where a sentence of penal servitude or of imprisonment is suspended under this section after the soldier has been committed to prison he shall be discharged and the currency of the sentence shall be suspended until he is again committed to prison under the same sentence.

(5) Where a sentence has been suspended under this section the case may at any time, and shall at intervals of not less than three months, be reconsidered by a competent military authority, and if on any such reconsideration it appears to the competent military authority that the conduct of the soldier since his conviction has been such as to justify a remission of the sentence he shall remit it.

(6) A superior military authority may at any time whilst a sentence is suspended under this section order that the soldier be committed to prison, and thereupon the sentence shall cease to be suspended.

(7) Where a soldier whilst a sentence on him is so suspended is sentenced to penal servitude or imprisonment for any other offence, then if that sentence is also suspended under this section, the authority ordering the suspension may direct that the two sentences shall run either concurrently or consecutively, so, however, that the aggregate term of imprisonment served under two or more sentences of imprisonment shall not exceed two consecutive years; and where the sentence for such other offence is a sentence of penal servitude, then, whether or not that sentence is suspended any previous sentence of imprisonment which has been suspended shall be avoided.

(8) The powers conferred by this section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any powers as to the mitigation, remission, commutation, or suspension of sentences conferred by the Army Act, and a superior authority under this Act shall as respects soldiers so employed as aforesaid be an authority having power to mitigate, remit, or commute sentences of penal servitude or imprisonment under sub-section (2) of section fifty-seven of the Army Act.

And whereas it is adjudged necessary by His Majesty and this present Parliament that a body of forces should be continued for the safety of the United Kingdom and the defence of the possessions of His Majesty's Crown, and that the whole number of such forces should consist of three million including those to be employed at the depôts in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for the training of recruits for service at home and abroad, but exclusive of the numbers actually serving within His Majesty's Indian possessions:

And whereas it is also judged necessary for the safety of the United Kingdom, and the defence of the possessions of this realm, that a body of Royal Marine forces should be employed in His Majesty's fleet and naval service, under the direction of the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral aforesaid:

And whereas the said marine forces may frequently be quartered or be on shore, or sent to do duty or be on board transport ships or vessels, merchant ships or vessels, or other ships or vessels, or they may be under other circumstances in which they will not be subject to the laws relating to the government of His Majesty's forces by sea:

And whereas no man can be forejudged of life or limb, or subjected in time of peace to any kind of punishment within this realm, by martial law, or in any other manner than by the judgment of his peers and according to the known and established laws of this realm; yet, nevertheless, it being requisite, for the retaining all the before-mentioned forces, and other persons subject to military law, in their duty, that an exact discipline be observed, and that persons belonging to the said forces who mutiny or stir up sedition, or desert His Majesty's service, or are guilty of crimes and offences to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law will allow:

And whereas the Army Act will expire in the year one thousand nine 44 & 4

(a) In the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man on the thirtieth day of April: and

(b) Elsewhere, whether within or without His Majesty's dominions, on the thirty-first day of July:

No court fees shall be payable on the application, but the judge may, if he thinks fit, order either party to pay such sum as he may consider proper by way of costs to the other party, which sum shall be added to or deducted from the amount fixed by the county court judge as the value of the article requisitioned, and the amount to be included in the certificate shall be adjusted accordingly.

5. If the amount already paid by the Army Council exceeds the amount specified in the certificate, the country court judge shall certify the amount of the excess and shall order the amount so certified to be paid to the Army Council, which order shall be enforceable in like manner as a judgment of a county court.

COMMERCE AND TRADE.

The 24th April, 1915.

No. 4676-W.—The following Order in Council is published for general information:—

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

The 11th day of March, 1915.

PRESENT:

The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the German Government has issued certain Orders which, in violation of the usages of war, purport to declare the waters surrounding the United Kingdom a military area, in which all British and allied merchant vessels will be destroyed irrespective of the safety of the lives of passengers and crew, and in which neutral shipping will be exposed to similar danger in view of the uncertainties of naval warfare;

And whereas in a memorandum accompanying the said Orders neutrals are warned against entrusting crews, passengers, or goods to British or allied ships;

And whereas such attempts on the part of the enemy give to His Majesty an unquestionable right of retaliation;

And whereas His Majesty has therefore decided to adopt further measures in order to prevent commodities of any kind from reaching or leaving Germany, though such measures will be enforced without risk to neutral ships or to neutral or non-combatant life, and in strict observance of the dictates of humanity:

And whereas the Allies of His Majesty are associated with Him in the steps now to be announced for restricting further the commerce of Germany:

HIS MAJESTY is therefore pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

I. No merchant vessel which sailed from her port of departure after the 1st March, 1915, shall be allowed to proceed on her voyage to any German port.

Unless the vessel receives a pass enabling her to proceed to some neutral or allied port to be named in the pass, goods on board any such vessel must be discharged in a British port and placed in the custody of the Marshal of the Prize Court. Goods so discharged, not being contraband of war, shall, if not requisitioned for the use of His Majesty, be restored by order of the Court, upon such terms as the Court may in the circumstances deem to be just, to the person entitled thereto.

II. No merchant vessel which sailed from any German port after the 1st March, 1915, shall be allowed to proceed on her voyage with any goods on board laden at such port.

All goods laden at such port must be discharged in a British or allied port. Goods so discharged in a British port shall be placed in the custody of the Marshal of the Prize Court, and, if not requisitioned for the use of His Majesty, shall be detained or sold under the direction of the Prize Court. The proceeds of goods so sold shall be paid into Court and dealt with in such manner as the Court may in the circumstances deem to be just :

Provided that no proceeds of the sale of such goods shall be paid out of Court until the conclusion of peace, except on the application of the proper Officer of the Crown, unless it be shown that the goods had become neutral property before the issue of this Order :

Provided also that nothing herein shall prevent the release of neutral property laden at such enemy port on the application of the proper Officer of the Crown.

III. Every merchant vessel which sailed from her port of departure after the 1st March 1915, on her way to a port other than a German port, carrying goods with an enemy destination, or which are enemy property, may be required to discharge such goods in a British or allied port. Any goods so discharged in a British port shall be placed in the custody of the Marshal of the Prize Court, and, unless they are contraband of war, shall, if not requisitioned for the use of His Majesty, be restored by order of the Court, upon such terms as the Court may in the circumstances deem to be just, to the person entitled thereto.

Provided that this Article shall not apply in any case falling within Articles II or IV of this Order.

IV. Every merchant vessel which sailed from a port other than a German port after the 1st March, 1915, having on board goods which are of enemy origin or are enemy property may be required to discharge such goods in a British or allied port. Goods so discharged in a British port shall be placed in the custody of the Marshal of the Prize Court, and, if not requisitioned for the use of His Majesty, shall be detained or sold under the direction of the Prize Court. The proceeds of goods so sold shall be paid into Court and dealt with in such manner as the Court may in the circumstances deem to be just.

Provided that no proceeds of the sale of such goods shall be paid out of Court until the conclusion of peace except on the application of the proper Officer of the Crown, unless it be shown that the goods had become neutral property before the issue of this Order.

Provided also that nothing herein shall prevent the release of neutral property of enemy origin on the application of the proper Officer of the Crown.

V.—(1) Any person claiming to be interested in, or to have any claim in respect of, any goods (not being contraband of war) placed in the custody of the Marshal of the Prize Court under this Order, or in the proceeds of such goods, may forthwith issue a writ in the Prize Court against the proper Officer of the Crown and apply for an order that the goods should be restored to him, or that their proceeds should be paid to him, or for such other order as the circumstances of the case may require.

(2) The practice and procedure of the Prize Court shall, so far as applicable, be followed mutatis mutandis in any proceedings consequential upon this order.

VI. A merchant vessel which has cleared for a neutral port from a British or allied port, or which has been allowed to pass having an ostensible destination to a neutral port, and proceeds to an enemy port, shall, if captured on any subsequent voyage, be liable to condemnation.

VII. Nothing in this Order shall be deemed to affect the liability of any vessel or goods to capture or condemnation independently of this Order.

VIII. Nothing in this Order shall prevent the relaxation of the provisions of this Order in respect of the merchant vessels of any country which declares that no commerce intended for or originating in Germany or belonging to German subjects shall enjoy the protection of its flag.

Telegram No. 4147-W , dated the 17th April 1915, to His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

The Government of India have been in close and constant communication with the Secretary of State regarding the procedure to be adopted in requisitioning merchant vessels for Government service connected with the war; the rates of hire to be paid; and the liability for fitting out charges and third party claims. A final decision regarding the rates of hire and outstanding claims could not be arrived at pending the receipt of the Admiralty Transport Arbitration Board Sub-Committees' Report and the orders of the Admiralty thereon. These have now been received and were communicated to Chambers of Commerce concerned in the letter in this Department, No. 2969-2972-W., dated the 18th March 1915. As intimated in that letter, vessels requisitioned in India on or before the 31st December 1914 will be paid for at the rate of hire fixed in terms of the Charter Party covering the requisition. The owners of vessels taken up on or after the 1st January 1915 will receive an advance of Rs. 10 per ton per mensem, and their claims in regard to these vessels will be finally adjusted in consultation with the Secretary of State as soon as the Admiralty have decided what rates will be paid for ships requisitioned in the United Kingdom after the 31st December 1914. The Secretary of State has been asked to give the Government of India the earliest possible intimation of the rates finally accepted for such vessels.

2. In the meantime it is recognized that many claims other than those which have reference to the rate of hire still remain outstanding in respect of requisitioned vessels. As the Government of India indicated in their letter of the 18th March 1915 to Chambers of Commerce, they have now decided to appoint a Committee to examine such claims. It will consist of—

R. E. ENTHOVEN, ESQ., C.I.E., I.C.S. ... ... President.
THE HON'BLE MR. H. L. STEPHENSON, C.I.E., I.C.S.... } Members.
MAJOR E. B. PEACOCK, I.A. ... ... }

The Committee will visit the principal ports from which vessels have been requisitioned, and in conducting their enquiries they will be assisted by the advice of two non-official representatives of commercial circles, nominated by the Chamber of Commerce at each port.

The non-official assessors nominated by the various Chambers of Commerce are—

Bombay	Malcolm N. Hogg, Esq., of Messrs. Forbes, Forbes, Campbell and Co. A. H. Froom, Esq., Supdt., P. & O. S. N. Company.
Karachi	W. V. Nicholas, Esq. E. L. Price, Esq.
Madras ...	Gordon Fraser, Esq., Chairman, Madras Chamber of Commerce. C. B. Simpson, Esq.
Bengal ...	Hon. Mr. F. H. Stewart, Presdt., Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Archibald Birkmyre, Esq.
Burma	E. O. Anderson, Esq., Manager, Bulloch Brothers and Co., Ld. B. E. G. Eddis, Manager Arbuthnot & Co.

3. The terms of reference to the Committee are as follows:—

(a) Their primary duty will be, with the assistance of the assessors at each port visited, to examine subsidiary claims arising in connection with the requisition of vessels for Government service. These claims fall generally under three heads:—

(1) cost of fitting the ship where this cost has been met by the owner;

(2) claims in connection with the removal of cargo already loaded when the ship was requisitioned;

(3) such other subsidiary claims as may be brought forwrrd for examination.

(b) In reporting upon these claims the Committee are desired, firstly, to classify them, so far as this can conveniently be done; secondly, to indicate their recommendations regarding the adjustment of claims, either individually or by classes; and, thirdly, to report whether their recommendations have or have not received the consent of the claimants, and how far they are supported by documentary evidence.

(c) The Committee will further report whether there are any claims still outstanding for the hire of ships already requisitioned and submit proposals where necessary for their settlement on the lines laid down in paragraph 1 of this Resolution.

4. The Government of India have recently received information from the Secretary of State for India in his telegram dated the 15th April, that His Majesty's Government have decided that in no case will third party claims be admitted. In view of these instructions, the Committee will consider only such claims as are put forward on behalf of ship owners or their representatives; and the examination of claims arising out of third party commitments must be definitely exculded from the scope of the enquiry.

5. Maritime Local Governments are requested to give all necessary assistance to the Committee and to the non-official assessors, and also to persons interested in placing their claims before the Committee.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations, to the Finance and Army Departments and to the President and Members of the Committee.

ORDERED also, that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information.
